Senior Class President, Larry Schulz, points to posters held by Paul Pierce and Ed Couey concerning Mission Project.

A Nickel A Day For Missions

The senior class under the leadership of Larry Schulz, with the co-operation of the faculty and student council, is sponsoring a nickel-per-day drive during the month of February for missions. If and when every student gives a nickel per day during this month it will amount to over $450.

This money will be used for building a school house in Endingeni, Swaziland, Africa. This will be a typical one-room school house, to be used by the black children of that particular area.

Endingeni is the zone where Rev.

Herman Spencer, our own missionary, is director. Rev. Spencer and family have been home on a year's furlough and plan to leave the last of February. This is reason enough for T.N.C. students to want to show their love for missions by this worthy contribution.

Clifton Couey is chairman of the project with Paul Pierce serving as publicity chairman. Much prayer and co-operation will be appreciated . . . and remember . . . A NICKEL PER DAY, DURING THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY, FOR MISSIONS.

Honor Students Named

After earning at least forty quality points for the fall quarter, each of the following people have been placed on the honor roll:

Joyce Anderson, Jo Lynn Armstrong, Ann Bohannon, Lucille Bush, Robert Bush, LaNelle Cowan, Rosalie Gardner, Frances Howick, Louise Irwin, Eleanor Knotts, Dwayne Little, Janey Little, Phyllis Lobb, Judy Magnusson, Edith Mingledorff, Mildred Pearson, Lillian Pickett, Donald Pitzer, Thomas Reid, Roberta Stogner, Doris Sweeney, Carolyn Wiley, Dave Wofford.

Congratulations!

Words of Wisdom

You can take a day off, but you can't put it back.

Lots of people conduct their lives on the cafeteria plan—self service, only.

Wisdom is knowing when to speak your mind and when to mind your speech.

When day is done, it's frequently exasperating to find nothing else is.

Any job is easy, if you work hard enough at it.

Synonym: A word you use in place of another when you don't know how to spell it.

Betty Cummings; Former T.N.C. Student Receives Appointment

News has just arrived that a former student, Miss Betty Cummings from Carthage, Missouri, has received her appointment to the mission field in Africa. Miss Cummings was an active member in the Ministerial Association, Christian Workers, Literary Club, and was library assistant while here at Trevecca. Betty won a place in the hearts of all her fellow-classmates when she was here.

At the present time she is teaching in Carthage, Missouri. Our prayers and best wishes will be with her as she strives to carry out the work of the Lord.

In yourself, anger is righteous indignation; in another, it's bad temper.

—Today's Crosswords

After all is said and done, more is usually said than done.

The happy man is he who is cheerful with moderate means; the unhappy—he who is discontented in the midst of plenty.

Blind Band Plays For Students Here

Saturday evening, January 17, the Junior Class presented the band from the Tennessee State School for the Blind. The program was held in McClurkan auditorium.

The Band began the program by playing "America"; then several trio and quartet instrumentals were given by different members of the band. Included in these numbers were "Lead Me Gently Home" and "Sweeter as the Year Go By."

The entire band then gave some pulse-quickening marches, such as "Washington Post March" and "On the Mall." Included in their selections was a medley of some old popular songs.

The superintendent of the school, Mr. Reed, gave some information about the different activities of the school. He said that the band has taken many top honors in state contests. Also, individual members have ranked high in the state.

After the program a reception was given for the band and its sponsors.

Holiness Convention To Be Held At College Hill

A Holiness Convention is to be held at College Hill Church February 9, 10 and 11. The convention is sponsored by the two Nashville zones.

Dr. Samuel Young, General Superintendent, is the special speaker.

There will be two morning services—on Tuesday, February 10 and Wednesday, February 11. Services will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p.m.

What Do You Know?

Knowledge is power. Power to be used for the good of mankind is something to be desired. This power can only be obtained by hard work and toilsome labor by the one obtaining the knowledge; it cannot be given to you. As the old adage goes: "You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink." You have to accept the information that is set before you, by the mental capacities bestowed upon you by God. As a free moral agent you can accept anything that is used for the fulfillment of your mental capacities; it is your own fault if you fail to do so.

The United States of today has an educational system surpassed by none; this should stimulate a desire within you to want to take advantage of these unforgettably opportunities of the youth of this

Richard M. Gunn Speaks in Chapel

Richard M. Gunn, Executive Secretary, Tennessee Alcoholism Commission, was special speaker in chapel, Thursday, January 22.

Mr. Gunn related plans of the commission to cope with the problem of alcoholism in Tennessee and gave statistics concerning it.

Plans of the Commission call for: 1. Prevention through education; 2. Rehabilitation through locally sponsored alcoholism clinics. The state will furnish personnel to assist in promoting and establishing these clinics; and will give financial help by matching grants to approved clinics.

There are around 780,000 Tennesseans who drink. Of this number there are 48,000 who are suffering from a disease known as Alcoholism. 7,000 of these are women. Alcoholism is a Progressive disease; it is classed as the fourth major health problem in the nation. It is seven times more prevalent than the dreaded disease—Tuberculosis.

Mr. Gunn proved to be a unique speaker and was able to hold the attention of the audience throughout his talk. He is a member of First Church of the Nazarene here in Nashville.

Girls Cater To The Fellows

The week of January 26 was a special week on campus. It was the one week during the school year when the girls were requested to invite the boys on dates and to pay. It was sponsored by the Junior Class.

To begin the week on Monday, everyone eating in the cafeteria drew a number and sat at the table with the corresponding number. Wednesday evening was dress-up night and dinner music was furnished.

The week climaxed with a program in the Fine Arts Auditorium in which Frances Howick sang "Indian Love Call," and an Indian wedding took place. Wendell Poole was the Indian Chief; Bruce Had-dix, the brave who was married; Joyce Woodard the bride; and Peggy Jo Neal, the mother.

One boy who answered requests for too many dates was Bruce Had-dix. He had a date with Mildred Pearson, Bess Pearson, Helen Burch and Patsy Jones all in the same night. (Of course, this was part of the program)

Things really changed around in the skit, "Private Secretary," when Ruth Shannon became the boss and Melvin Welch the secretary.

The Junior Class and most of the fellows on campus seem to be well pleased with the week in which the girls were requested to pay.

Rev. Leon Chambers Conducts Revival In Chapel, Jan. 19-23

Rev. Leon Chambers

Rev. Leon Chambers, Dean of Students, conducted a revival in chapel, January 19-23.

"The Final Judgment" was the topic of the sermon on Monday. Rev. Chambers chose as his text Revelations 20:11-15. Many students responded to this soul searching message.

On Tuesday, the sermon was taken from Jeremiah 7:1-4, the topic being "The Warning Voice of God."

"The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved."—Jeremiah 8:20. This was the text for the message on Wednesday, "Lost Opportunity."

"Men Who Will Not Bow," the topic of Thursday's sermon was taken from Daniel 3:18. "But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up."

On Friday, Bro. Chambers spoke on "Entire Sanctification." His text was Romans 6:6—"Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin."

This week proved to be one of soul searching on everyone's part. A spirit of revival prevailed throughout the campus and many souls were won for the Master.

Our Nickel a Day

I sincerely hope that by now every student and faculty member at T. N. C. has become conscious of both the great need and the unlimited possibilities of our February mission campaign.

In years past there have been many missionaries to visit our campus and speak in our chapel. These wonderful workers for our Lord have both thrilled and saddened our hearts. We were thrilled when they told of heathen peoples coming to Christ and of His love working miracles in their hearts and lives. But we have also been saddened when they told of the great material needs of both these people and our missionaries in their work.

Many times we have wanted to help but have realized how little each of us, as individuals, were able to do. All that any of us can do will be very little but anything we do will be appreciated.

A nickel a day seems quite insignificant and it seems hard to imagine that if the more than four hundred students at Trevecca were to each donate that small amount per day during the month of February, it would total more than $600.00 . . . more than enough to build and furnish a one-room schoolhouse in South Africa.

And that's just what we are planning to do!!! Your nickels and mine are going to build a one-room schoolhouse in the Endingeni Zone of Swaziland, South Africa. Rev. and Mrs. Herman Spencer will be returning to their duties as superintendents of this mission work early in March and I am confident that they will carry with them the money for the much-needed schoolhouse and our prayers for them and their work.

This school we are building will be a means to an end and an end in itself, for many times the only way our workers can teach Christ to the natives in this bush country is to first offer to teach their young in the mission schoolrooms such as this one. Later they hold Sunday School in the same buildings and teach the eager minds of a darkened world the wondrous story of Christ and God's great love.

The Senior Class feels this to be a very worth-while project which will benefit, in an indirect but very real sense, every individual at Trevecca College. It is far more than simply a Senior-sponsored event, for every nickel that is sacrificed from your meal and expense money will go not to the Senior Class, but to help spread the light of Christ into the darkness. Your nickels and mine will be an expression from our college to all concerned that we are interested in, and are doing our part, to win the lost on the foreign mission field.

The Republican Party Battle

The Republican Party has control of the executive branch of the government at the present time, but just how much longer do they have to reign?

This brings up the question of who is going to win the 1960 election. Before we discuss that, we must find out who is going to win the nomination from each political party. Let's start with the battle that is going on inside the G.O.P.

Up until the middle of last year, Vice-President Richard M. Nixon seemed an almost "shoo-in" for the Republican nomination for president. In fact, he was being favored by many to win the election itself.

Then the story took on a different slant. A man by the name of Nelson Rockefeller defeated a fellow millionaire, but democrat, Averill Harriman for the governorship of New York. This caused a lot of people, especially those who had hard feelings toward Mr. Nixon, to begin calling Rockefeller their "man for the job."

Now a pretty good intra-party battle seems to be shaping up between these two; with, of course, a few "alsorans" hanging in for a couple of votes.

In the latest Gallop poll Nixon has gained on Rockefeller from the position they held two months ago. In November of 1958 the vice-president polled 51 per cent of rank-and-file Republican votes to Rockefeller's 31 per cent. Now it is 56 per cent to 27 per cent in favor of Mr. Nixon.

His vote is smaller now, however, than it was last March when—before the emergence of the new New York governor on the political scene—he was preferred by 64 per cent of the Republicans.

Trailing the two top runners with rank-and-file Republicans are U.N. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. with 6 per cent and the former presidential assistant, Harold Stassen, with 3 per cent.

Among independent voters—whose support is always very vital in an election—Nixon and Rockefeller are still in a virtual tie for first place on the list of leading Republicans.

Who would you like to see occupy the White House after 1960? If you haven't decided yet, please study the candidates carefully and then exercise one of America's most precious rights—VOTE. (that is, if you're eligible)

By the way, you might watch this column next issue for a discussion of the possible democratic candidates. There may be some fire flying.

P.S. Nixon's our man—that is, right now.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

What has happened to the supporters of the athletic societies? What has happened to the "rooters" at the ball games?

When the teams give all their energy to play and win, why are there not many people cheering for their team?

After talking with some of the players, I find this question puzzling them. "Why can't we take time to support our teams?"

On Saturdays the gym is not overflowing with crowds! The players have made a statement, and I would like to repeat that statement. "When we have someone yelling or cheering for us, it gives us extra strength and makes us want to win more than ever. Why can't the members of the different societies come out and support us?"

Another question that makes the teams wonder quite a bit is this: "Why can't our cheerleaders attend the games to yell for us? After all, we elected them for this purpose. When will all our cheerleaders and supporters get the real spirit of athletics?"

So I ask this question: "When are we going to get the real athletic spirit behind our teams and support them in all their sports?"

Dear Editor,

Have you ever played the piano (?) down in the recreation room? I think you would hardly recognize it as being one, to be truthful. By the time you finish a song, you're exhausted, because a half-dozen of the notes stick, and there's one down there that is really a dilly! It sounds two notes at once! (I suppose that's one way to conserve on energy, but I don't care to conserve my energy in that way!)

Wouldn't it be nice if we had a good piano—it certainly wouldn't have to be new—just one that will play all the notes, and only the notes it's supposed to play! The students would appreciate it, I'm sure. I've heard several of them mention it, and we all wish something could be done about it so we would have a more enjoyable time in our Recreation Room! This might be a good club project.

Sincerely,
One of the Many

C. W. A. Notes

By PAT YOUNG

In a recent meeting of the Christian Worker's prayer meeting, captains and co-captains for Winter Quarter were installed in their positions as department heads.

Signs of expansion are noted as additional workers have been added to at least two of the departments—Hospital and Jordonia Reform School.

Great responsibility lies upon the following leaders in Christian work this quarter:

County Jail: Ruth High, Leslie Porter.

City Workhouse: Wanda Miller, Bob Cook.

County Workhouse: Nancy Sheridan, Paul Cleckner.

City Jail: James Spruill.

Friday Night Street Service: Barbara Brown, Winston Hatcliff.

Saturday Night Street Service: Shirley Mahoney, James Staley.

Sunday Street Meeting: Bill Nichols.

Juvenile Court: Irmgard Haerr.

Colored Work: Barrie Bracken.

Hospital: Barbara Goodman.

Grace Nursing Home: Ida Vaughn, Oren Frazier.

Agee Nursing Home: Martha Gray, Bob Field.

Boys Reformatory: Gary Jones.

Great opportunities are within our reach. Let us launch out in faith believing, claiming more souls than ever for God.

Everyone is urged to take part in Christian work. Go prayed up and on fire for God!

Open House at McKay

McKay Hall girls will open the doors of their dorm Saturday night, February 7. This year the girls have planned something entirely different. Most every girl in the dorm will take part.

A program will be held in the Fine Arts Auditorium after which refreshments will be served in the student center.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Dear Editor,

I'm just a small fry, but I wonder if you'll print my letter in your paper. I really like the kindergarten I go to. We have rest hours every Sunday afternoon from 2:00 to 3:00. If some of us kids try to leave with our playmates, our "kindergarten mother" reminds us that we must get our rest. (Take your rest, take your rest, take your rest).

Then before the sun goes down, we are all in our individual rooms, tucked away in our beds taking our rest. We have a saying about our school that goes like this—"The sun never sets on T.K." (Trevecca Kindergarten)—we have to be in before sundown.

Dear editor, please advertise our kindergarten. It's such a shame that every one can't enjoy it.

Your small-fry,

MISS PEACH

Beetin' the Air

By Bess Pearson

(Beeter)

It's February and we'll have some more moments to remember. Of course, we're referring to the Valentine Banquet. All those beautiful young ladies dressed in their gowns and those handsome young fellows dressed in their garbs will create a scene to behold. I sure hope those fellows have been busy getting their dates for the banquet.

The male quartet and the ladies' trio have just about finished their tour of Florida. They will have lots to tell us when they do arrive on campus, especially tales concerning Florida sunshine. Don't let them brag too much.

Julia Matlock has some new glasses. Oh, say can you see.

Joyce Woodard has missed her roommate loads since she's been gone.

Some recent visitors on campus were Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Kirby and Diane from Jackson, Tennessee. We enjoyed having them with us. Diane stayed in the dorm some and met quite a few girls. Please hurry and come back to see us.

Dan Saxon, from Kingsport, Tennessee, was also a recent visitor. He is making it quite a habit, coming to Trevecca to see a little Mercer gal.

Congratulations to Bennie Ennis and Richard Woods on their recent engagement.

I thought this was rather amusing. Jim Hampton was city champion in Class A in table tennis and Arnold Spruill was runner-up. But guess who lost in Trevecca Ping-Pong Tournament? Such stiff competition! I really felt sorry for them.

We are very sorry to hear that Betty Jernigan had to leave us and return home. She was a member of the first soprano section of the A Cappella Choir.

Marquita Thomas is so happy now. Ask her about her state of ecstasy.

Doris, Joyce and Linda have been a little down-hearted lately. Hold steady. There's hope. The day will soon be dawning.

The Future Teachers still want their pictures made. In fact, they are now posing in front of the McClurkan Building.

By the way, our grandchildren will be reading Shannon instead of Shakespeare. In fact, Miss Person may be teaching Shannon.

I was trying to recollect and see if I had missed any of our visitors on campus when I was aided by Helen's bright comment, "I saw a man and woman on campus the other day."

Melvin Welch tells me that he doesn't miss his grandmother.

Do you have any "Little Rocks" in your stomach?

After three years of unsuccessful attempts to get on the honor roll, Mildred Pearson and Jo Lynn Armstrong made it. Congratulations!

That's a good comment to close on; so until next time, keep smiling.

Inquiring Reporter

Several people on campus were asked the question: "If you had a pichichago, what would you do with it?"

These are some of the answers received:

Joy Wilcox—"No telling; I'd probably eat it."

Barbara Greer—"I'd watch it to see what it did; then act accordingly."

Molly Mercer—"I don't even know what it is, much less do something with it."

John DeBoer—"I'd probably play it."

Raymond Cowan—"I'd bury it in the back yard."

Webster's Dictionary gives this definition: "A small burrowing South American armadillo."

Speech Club Activities

The Speech Club will be sponsoring the W.C.T.U. Speaking Contest the last of February in the Fine Arts Auditorium. Five Trevecca students will participate in the contest. Prizes will be given for the best speeches.

The club is planning to attend several plays at some of the colleges here—Belmont, Scarritt, and David Lipcomb.

We hope that through our plans and efforts that this will be the best year the Speech Club has ever had.

Choir Activities

by Mariiyn Stucki

The A Cappella Choir presented in chapel Thursday, January 22, two selections, "Glory to God" by Bach, and a favorite gospel song, "Then I Met Jesus," arranged by one of Trevecca's faculty members, Miss Barbara McClain. The audience seemed to receive a blessing from these two songs sung by the choir under the direction of Professor Ramon Unruh.

The singers have two engagements in the month of February. On the 11th the group will sing for the Tennessee Preacher's Meeting, to be held at College Hill Church of the Nazarene. The Church of the Nazarene at Mayfield, Kentucky, has invited them to be its guests Sunday, February 15. This program will be much like the one to be presented during the choir tour which comes in April.

Newest Residents

Have you noticed our newest campus residents? You will not find them walking sedately down a sidewalk. You will most likely see them scampering through the trees, frisking across the grass, or gracefully jumping up on the campus benches.

I am speaking of the eleven squirrels put on the campus by the Science Club. Mr. Walter White, a club member, was in charge of this project. He and several helpers from the club made many trips to trap the squirrels. Their efforts were very rewarding. Thank you, Mr. White, for a good job.

A college campus is lacking in atmosphere without some friendly little squirrels frisking about in the tree tops. The Science Club plans to feed the squirrels through the winter and make them feel so much at home that they will become permanent residents.

Support School Activities

The co-operation of each student is needed to make a school have a well-rounded program of successful activities. Without school spirit, no school can achieve very high goals; the students and faculty must be stalwart backers of their own school. Our success is determined not by what outsiders think, but by what we ourselves know.

During the past football season, the student body's enthusiasm was at a peak. Now that football season has ended, let us continue to show our enthusiasm by giving the same support to our basketball team. These boys and girls need just as much support as did the football team. When a team knows it has people cheering and backing them, they try twice as hard to make a good showing. So come out and back your team.

Science Club Activities

The Science Club is underway this quarter with a good start. On Friday, January 16, it presented a film in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

The film, "Hemo, the Magnificent," has been put out by the Bell Telephone Company. Dr. Frank Baxter and Richard Carlson with a host of several animated cartoon characters presented the film. It is a study of human blood—what it is, how it circulates, and how it nourishes the body.

The animated characters showed how the heart pumps blood through arteries to the capillaries, then back through the veins to the lungs for purification.

There were several pictures of the human heart beating, and also a number of hearts from animals. It also showed blood cells moving through the capillaries.

The Science Club also saw a film at the Children's Museum recently. This film, "Land the Glaciers Forgot," was presented by Howard L. Orians. The scene is in Wisconsin, with many unusual features.

At the present time the club members are in the process of placing squirrels over the campus. The purpose of this project is to help make our campus more beautiful.

Peabody College Presents Two Operas

On Friday and Saturday evenings, January 16 and 17, the Music Department of Peabody College for Teachers presented two operas, "The Telephone" and "The Medium" by Monotte.

"The Telephone" had many parts in it that called for laughter. The characters in this opera were students at Peabody.

The main character in "The Medium" was Lucille David, a music professor at Peabody. The other characters were students. This opera contained more suspense and it ended with tragedy.

Several Trevecca students had the opportunity to attend those operas and all seemed to be pleased with the presentation. Many are looking forward to the time when a program of this kind will again be presented.

Doozy Duds

By CAROLYN WILEY

From the looks of the students around campus everyone had a nice Christmas along the clothes line. There are many new skirts, sweaters, hairdos, coats, etc. . . floating around.

Doris Sweeney has a beautiful new charcoal cashmere sweater. Joe Moses also has a new "Perry Como" sweater.

Marilyn Stucki's "little" brother has very good taste in picking out clothes. He gave her a lovely melon-colored bulky knit sweater for Christmas.

Speaking of sweaters, John McCauley has a new one with the two-sweater effect, V-neck over Crew-neck. It's very pretty. These are very much in style this year.

Always looking nice, but looking exceptionally nice was Pat Jones in her new green plaid skirt and vest outfit. Some of the first to wear these were LaNelle Cowan and Berma DuBose. They are cute and look very neat with blouses or sweaters.

Barbara Barnett looked very collegiate the other day in a black and yellow striped jacket with a black skirt to match.

Nada Ulm looked very cute in a Christmas red chemise sweater. It is bulky knit and has a bow in the back.

Helen Burch has a new black winter coat which has the loose-button effect. Right now it is not in use because of the need for minor repairs. Another new coat on the scene is Nancy Murphy's new gray mouton jacket. It really looks nice with her black hair.

The Trev-a-laires Trio: Marilyn Stucki, Lois Conkley, and Yvonne Oakes have very nice outfits for their Florida tour. They are cotton knit and paisley print of aqua and brown; a two-piece dress with three-quarter length sleeves and a belted jacket.

The Delta cheerleaders have their uniforms. They consist of black felt skirts, white roll-up sleeve blouses and black orlon weskets.

Melvin Welch has a new sweater; well at least it's new to us. It's brown crew-necked, trimmed in red.

Not along the clothes line, but Mildred Pearson has been making monograms for some of the girls out of colored pipe cleaners. (I knew those things should be good for something). They look very neat or sweaters. Also, did you see Sylvia Young's hair-do the other day when it rained real hard?

That's all there is. So long until . . . next issue!!

Chatter Box

The basketball season is in its fourth week, and it appears that we are going to have a successful season, which will reach its peak at tournament time.

The Alphas, as predicted, have played four games and have yet to suffer a defeat. Their first three wins were by fifteen points or more. The Betas were the first to give them trouble, that coming in their last outing. The margin between victory and defeat was eight points.

Trailing the Alphas are the Betas and Deltas, both deadlocked for second place with four defeats and one victory. Most of the better competition this season will be between these two teams.

Scoring Parade

With the season progressing right along, the writer has discovered a race developing for the scoring to tie among three Alphas and two Deltas. Leading the point production is Ed Sisson of the Alphas with 99 points in four games for a respectable 24.4 average. The remaining top five are as follows: Bob Cook, Alpha, 70 points, 17.5 average; Charles Kirby, Delta, 61 points, 15.4 average; Wendell Poole, Alpha, 57 points, 14.4 average; Paul Jackson, Delta, 45 points, 11.4 average.

Alphas Roll Past Betas 66-36

The Betas were unable to stop the forces of the Alphas as they were solidly defeated for their first loss of the young season.

Led by Ed Sisson's 27 points, the Alphas never were in a pinch. They began to blister the nets throughout the first half and when the buzzer sounded, had built up a comfortable lead of 13 points—33 to 20.

During the second half the Alphas continued to hit from the outside and held the defense tight, allowing the Betas only 16 points while they were gathering 33 out of the nets.

The Betas were led by Gene Cook's 10 points, followed by Roger Costa's 8. Jim Hampton was greatly missed from his regular center post. The victory continued to prove that the Alphas will be the team to conquer for the Championship.

Alphas Crush Deltas 80-56

The Alphas went on a scoring rampage and solidly crushed the Deltas beneath their feet for their third win in a row.

The game saw three Alphas and one Delta top the twenty-point mark. Leading all scorers was Ed Sisson with 27 points; close behind were Alphas Bob Cook and Wendell Poole with 24 and 23 points respectively. Charles Kirby tallied 21 for the Deltas. Paul Jackson scored 16 to take runner-up honors for the Deltas.

The game started slowly with the Delta's Gillian hitting the first basket of the game. However, their lead was short-lived as the Alphas found the bottom of the net had a hole in it to let the round ball through. The Alphas began to click and by the end of the first half led by twenty—41-21.

The second half saw the Alphas equally as strong as the first half. The Deltas were able to hit a better percentage and wound up with 35 points the last half; however, 24 points short of the Alphas who totaled a big 80 points to the Deltas' 56.

The high pointers so far this season from all societies are: Light, Alpha; Still, Beta; and Greer, Delta, following very close behind.

Attention, Fellows!

There is just one week left before the Valentine Banquet. You had better hurry and make up your mind which girl you are going to take.

The date is Saturday, February 14.

Don't forget!

Congratulations!

To Helen and Larry Leeper on the arrival of their son on February 1.

To Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bello-my on the arrival of their son, Richard, Jr., (Ricky, for short), January 28.

Alphas Nip Betas 57-49 In Season's Top Performance

The Betas threw a scare at the Alphas throughout their contest, but the Alphas played like a championship team to turn a possible defeat into a sweet victory.

The game was no doubt the best played thus far this season. It was nip and tuck most of the way. Those viewing the game could not predict a winner until the last few minutes of play when the Alphas seemed to see their perfect record was in danger of a blemish and pulled away at the end for an eight-point victory, their fourth in a row.

scoring with 24 points for the day. It should be mentioned that Sisson played the last twenty-five minutes with four fouls against him. Close behind Sisson was Hampton of the Betas getting 22 points to take runner-up position.

Box Score

Alpha		Beta
Haddix	4	Houston	2
Stephens	2	Johnson	13
Sisson	24	Hampton	22

Deltas Break Into Win Column With Victory Over Betas 39-25

The Deltas won their first game of the season in four starts with an unquestionable victory over the Betas.

Playing in a shortened game, the Deltas began to go to work at once and piled up 23 points in the first twelve minutes of action leading at the half's end 23-11. Most of their points came on close up shots under the basket.

Deltas, contributed 9 points, plus a good floor game.
