Rev. Harvey Hendershot Presents Message For Baccalaureate

REV. HARVEY HENDERSHOT

Rev. Harvey H. Hendershot, district superintendent of West Virginia, presented the baccalaureate message on "Patterns" at Trevecca College on June 4.

Rev. Hendershot was converted twenty-six years ago, and for twenty-one years he has been in full-time Christian service. He served for six years as district N. Y. P. S. president, and has been district superintendent for the West Virginia District for three years. He has been a member of Trevecca's Board of Trustees since 1949.

Mr. Hendershot completed his high school work and two years of college at Trevecca, and attended three semesters at West Virginia Institute of Technology in Montgomery, West Virginia.

Rev. and Mrs. Hendershot, the former Maxine Moore, now live with their son, James Edward, fifteen, in Charleston, West Virginia.

Board of Trustees Meets June 6

The Board of Trustees is having its annual meeting on June 6 to discuss business and make plans for the coming school year.

They had committee meetings on Monday and enjoyed a luncheon with the faculty at the Albert Pick Motel on Tuesday.

Dr. John L. Knight, district superintendent of the Florida District, is chairman of the Board.

Forty-Seven Seniors In Graduating Class

Thirty-eight college seniors will graduate this evening with A.B. degrees. One will receive a Th.B. degree. One will receive a theological diploma.

Dr. A. B. Mackey Marks 25th Year As President

PRESIDENT A. B. MACKEY

Seventeen high school seniors also graduate this evening: Sue Ann Beeler, Glenda Faye Burger, Frances South Cottrell, Beverly Joyce Donegan, Alma Reynolds Kelly, Kay Jernigan, Arnita Faye McDowell, Robert Charles McGee, Jr., Lillian Rose Oakes, Mary Chiquita Russell, Mildred Florence Sallee, Thomas Stayton Shaw, Rufus William Slay, Jo Anne Spolarich, Henry Lorenzo Staggs, Genell Voss, and Roy Ferrell Gomer.

Six seniors have equivalency diplomas: Robert Fred Allison, Duane Wilbert Cook, Charles Homer Harris, Cleta Horn, William Edward Naill, and James Calvin Shaw.

Sue Angela Cain and Lois Hazalwood Wells will receive diplomas in August.

As our 1961 school year draws to a close, it is with gratitude that we acknowledge Dr. A. B. Mackey in his twenty-fifth year as president of Trevecca Nazarene College.

On April 16, 1897, in the small town of Highway, Kentucky, was born a child destined to become one of the most outstanding men in the history of our college.

Olivet, Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, Peabody, Vanderbilt, the University of Chicago, Harvard University, and Northwest Nazarene College are contributing factors to the knowledge which he possesses.

He obtained the A. B. degree in education from Eastern Kentucky State College and the M. A. degree from Peabody College. The LL.D. degree was conferred upon him by Northwest Nazarene College. Economics, educational psychology, and educational administration are the areas in which he received his major training.

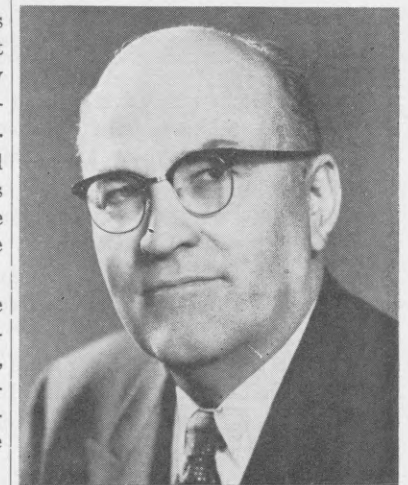

In actual teaching experience, Dr. Mackey is well qualified, having taught on elementary, high school, and college levels before coming to Trevecca. His administrative work varied from the position of principal of an Albany, Kentucky school to that of faculty member at Peabody.

His close association with Trevecca was begun in 1925, when he came as a part-time teacher in Latin and agriculture in the high school department and French in college. Thus began his climb from high school principal to college dean; then, to college vice president, and finally to president in 1937. It is in this capacity he has served ever since. Under his able leadership Trevecca has progressed into the strong holiness college it is today.

Despite attempts in 1935 to locate the college in various other places, our president leased, and later purchased, an eight-acre tract of land in his own name. Seven acres of central campus were purchased shortly thereafter. Since that time additional property has been purchased, bringing our college property, with a campus valued at one and one-half million dollars, to its present approximately fifty acres.

We are indeed grateful to this great man of God who has sacrificed for himself and his family far beyond the call of duty in order to make a dream a reality—Tre-

Dr. Hardy C. Powers Is Commencement Speaker, June 6

DR. HARDY C. POWERS

Dr. Hardy C. Powers, of Dallas, Texas, will be the commencement speaker on June 6. He has been chairman of the Board of General Superintendents since 1949, and a member of the board since his first election in 1944.

Dr. Powers joined the Nazarene church in 1923 and prepared for the ministry at Pasadena College, Pasadena, California. For ten years he served as pastor in California and Iowa. In 1936 he was elected superintendent of the Iowa district, serving eight years. He served as district president of the young people's society and for several years as a member of the General Board of the church. Here he served with distinction as vice-president, chairman of the Department of Publication and as a member of the Department of Foreign Missions.

He has traveled widely for foreign missions. His exploratory trips preceded opening of work among the Europeans in South Africa, Haiti, New Guinea, and West Germany.

Dr. and Mrs. Powers have five children, including a son in the Nazarene ministry.

Dr. Powers holds an honorary doctoral degree from Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, Idaho.

Tre-vecca Nazarene College, strong and stalwart, sending forth young people equipped to lead satisfying and useful lives in the Kingdom of God.

For his twenty-five years of service as president of Trevecca Nazarene College, Dr. Mackey will be honored with a special extended service following commencement exercises this evening.

From The Editor's Desk

I would like to express my appreciation for the tremendous amount of work done by Mrs. K. W. Phillips and the staff of Trev-Echoes this year.

Mrs. Phillips, our advisor, has faithfully proofread and checked copy, besides making trips for pictures and articles. This is her eleventh year as advisor. Mrs. Phillips, we appreciate the work you have done.

A big "THANK YOU" to the Journalism Class who rounded up the news, sometimes at the last minute.

An extra "hats off" to the assistant editors, Arline and Rosalie, and to Sharron Marlin, the busy managing editor who cracked the whip for me.

Without the business manager's financing we would not have had a paper. Thank you, Dwayne and B. J.

Good luck to Arline Phillips as next year's editor. Her aid the last two quarters has been invaluable. I know she will be a good editor.

Thank you, readers, for your interest and for your comments and criticisms. Without criticism there is no growth.

May God be with you all this summer.

Tribute To The Student Council

The 1960-61 Trevecca Student Council, under the leadership of Orval LeJeune as president, has contributed much to make this the best year in the history of the college. Most of their efforts have proved successful and much has been accomplished.

This small group, known as the Student Council, represents the entire student body of Trevecca College. In order to function to their full capacity, they must know the desires and wishes of each student. The Student Council must have the full support of every student in order to maintain the attitudes of harmony and togetherness emphasized in every aspect of college life.

Each class representative has performed his duties well on the Student Council. Each major officer has contributed much to make it a good year.

So, to you the 1960-61 Student Council, the entire student body wants to give a word of heartfelt appreciation for all your efforts, proposals, patience, and accomplishments. You have exemplified the true spirit of our college and made it a successful year—one which can never be forgotten.

Full-Time Christian Work Is Plan Of 231 Students

A total of 231 Trevecca students are preparing for full-time Christian work, while 203 plan to teach school, according to the vocational survey of the 1960-61 school year.

Of the Christian workers, 148 will be ministers, 62 will be missionaries, seven will be song evangelists, one will be a minister of music, two will be directors of Christian education, and eleven will be doing other types of Christian work.

Eight students indicated they would like to enter the medical field. Other vocations were listed by 37 students and 95 were undecided about future plans.

Alumni "T" Award Given Dr. Greathouse

Once again as the commencement season approached, alumni of our college looked toward Trevecca in anticipation of the annual alumni banquet, which was June 5.

A highlight of the banquet was the presentation of the annual "T" award, given each year to an outstanding alumnus. This year's award was given to Dr. William M. Greathouse, pastor of First Church of the Nazarene in Nashville, and Dean of Religion at Trevecca Nazarene College.

Anna Kollio Returns To Greece

ANNA KOLLIO

There will be a happy welcome in Tripolis, Greece, this fall when Anna Koliopoulou returns to her home with a well-earned A. B. degree.

Anna's Greek accent has almost disappeared after her four-year stay at Trevecca preparing to teach English in her home country. Because of language difficulties Anna took only eighteen hours during her entire first year here. But this year she has managed to make good grades with nineteen hours per quarter.

After graduating from high school she went to an English institute in Athens, a school in Tripolis and then taught English to beginners for a year. A real love for the English language made her want to come to an American college. Her cousin, Mrs. Joe Duncan, whose husband operates a dry-cleaning plant in Nashville, recommended that she attend Trevecca and made arrangements for her acceptance.

Anna's ship will leave New York for Greece on September 23, 1961. She hopes to have a job after Christmas, 1962, teaching English in Athens, where she may take more courses at the university there.

"Aloha Oe" Is Theme Of College Junior-Senior Banquet

"Aloha Oe" was the theme of the Junior-Senior Banquet on May 27.

The college cafeteria was transformed to a Hawaiian scene. Jimmy Stocks played the Hawaiian guitar in front of a grass hut, while Betty Harrison played organ music in the background.

Flaming torches lighted the way into the bamboo and palm tree-lined room where orchids and ukuleles decorated the tables. Servers, attired in Hawaiian costumes, flitted about in the candle light.

Bill Roddy, president of the Junior Class, welcomed the seniors, and Bob Mitchell, Senior Class president, responded. Lois Conkey sang "Hawaiian Wedding Song" and "Aloha Oe," and the class will and prophecy were read.

DARDA Presented In Chapel, May 1

The 1961 DARDA marked a new era in the history of Trevecca yearbooks, as it was presented in chapel on May 1 by Bess Kirby, editor.

The beautiful new DARDA is white with purple lettering and possesses many outstanding characteristics. For the first time the DARDA staff used color portraits which greatly enhance the attractiveness of the book. Another first is the use of antique paper with offset print throughout.

Bess Kirby and the members of the 1961 DARDA staff worked earnestly to make the annual the best it has ever been. The theme of the book this year is "From these roots grow wisdom, worship, triumph, and togetherness, reflecting the life and spirit of Trevecca."

A copy of the DARDA was presented to Dr. A. B. Mackey in honor of his twenty-five years as president of Trevecca.

The 1961 DARDA was dedicated to Miss Eula Jean Stephan, the college bookkeeper, who was completely surprised and appreciative of the honor.

Mrs. K. W. Phillips was presented with a gift from the staff for her excellent work as editorial advisor for the past ten years.

The editor and entire staff with Sylvia Young as assistant editor and Joe Moses as business manager have worked diligently, and appreciation is extended to them.

Who's Who

Elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges for the year of 1960-1961 are: LINDA TAYLOR COOK, Lawrenceburg, Tennessee; RAYMOND COWAN, Atlanta, Georgia; MARTHA GRAY, Pavo, Georgia; PHYLLIS LOBB, Greensburg, Kentucky; ROBERT MITCHELL, Sumter, South Carolina; and SYLVIA YOUNG, Mobile, Alabama.

C.W.A. Reports

By MARTHA GRAY

There is an old English proverb which says "All is well that ends well." I would like to change this to say, "All is well that begins well." A good ending necessitates a good beginning, good planning and good leadership. These factors have been significant in the success story told by the C.W.A. this year. Jim Staley has been a good leader and the Association has made excellent progress under his direction.

Members of the Christian Workers Association have contacted 24,911 people in their services this year. From this number 678 testified to a definite conversion, and 553 others received spiritual help. More than 55,000 tracts were passed out. This is the largest total in the history of the organization. Two new departments, Meharry Hospital and work at the state penal institution for the colored, have been opened this year. Most of all, God's blessings have been upon the services in a special way.

May we say congratulations to you, Jim, on this very good report. We have appreciated your leadership and Christian example this year, and trust that God will continue to use you in His service as you go out to work for Him.

Officially, another year will begin for the C.W.A. in the summer quarter. We will not continue to look back over the past, but will look forward to next year with anticipation. John Clayton has been elected to lead the organization next year. John, a native of Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, plans to be a missionary after finishing school. He is completely dedicated to God, and we feel certain that he will do a splendid job as president. Other members of the council will be Al Truesdale, vice-president; Esther Blume, secretary; Douglas Askew, treasurer; Charlotte Porter, reporter; Patsy Wood, follow-up secretary; and James Spruill, visitation chairman.

CAMPUS CACOPHONY

By Joy Nell Warhurst and Marita Slifer

During commencement days we naturally give special recognition to our graduating seniors, who have come through comprehensives, diligently worked four years, and come to this memorable event in their lives.

Of course we who are left behind will miss the seniors as they leave and begin their life's work. But after inquiring what they would miss most—we have discovered that they, too, will feel a certain vacancy from campus life.

Karen Cox said that she would miss Dr. Adams' "pop" quizzes.

Anna Kollio replied that she would miss answering McKay Hall phone calls and calling the girls.

Wendell Poole admitted he would miss umpiring ball games and lining off the fields.

Mrs. McDowell sighed, "Seven o'clock class."

ORCHIDS to the boys and girls who have participated so faithfully in the athletic program this year.

ORCHIDS to the nice, patient waitresses in the T-Room and cafeteria.

ORCHIDS to the drivers who observe the four-way stop sign.

It is certain that there are numerous other who deserve ORCHIDS, but space is limited. So—ORCHIDS of the most gorgeous kind to all those who contributed to make this a most wonderful year.

SENIOR PLANS

Doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief—what will the seniors be?

From the 47 aspiring graduates from Trevecca College this June will emerge 25 school teachers (including one in Greece), 15 ministers, three missionaries, a high school choral director, and three men who aspire to a Ph.D.

These will teach in Davidson County next fall:

Joe Adkisson, Karen Cox, Oren Frazier, Martha Gray, Ann Hunley, Mildred McDowell, Joyce Woodard, Wendell Poole, Yvonne Rhodes, Phyllis Sark, William Young, Charlene Ragsdale.

To be pastors are: Marshall Copen, Buddy Gillian, Raymond Hassinger, Don Smith, Cecil Wells, Walter White, Ray Carson.

These will go to the seminary: Paul Cleckner, Gary Koch, Ray Cowan, LeRoy Davis, Tom Reid, James Staley, Barry Bracken.

Darlene Cain will work in a Vanderbilt laboratory; Bess Kirby and Linda Cook will work as preachers' wives; Barbara Greer, Ruth Six, and Ruby Jones will teach elementary school. Theresa Gunter plans to teach in Florida. Lea Harner will work as a secretary in Ohio. Teaching English in Greece will be Anna Kollio's future.

Some seniors will be getting more education in Nashville this fall. Working on master's degrees will be: Phyllis Lobb, Judy Magnusson, Melvin Welch, Bob Mitchell, Orval LeJeune.

Joe Moses is looking for a job as a high school choral director. Kansas City will welcome Ruth Shannon as a teacher. Sylvia Young will be a music instructor at Freewill Baptist Bible College, and Edith Mingle-dorff will teach at Winter Haven, Florida.

Miss Florence Morris Presents Gift To Library

Miss Florence Eden Morris is presenting to the Mackey Library a desk with nameplate, and a swivel chair to be used in the librarian's office.

Mrs. A. B. Mackey, librarian, is deeply grateful for this gift.

Miss Morris, a Trevecca graduate of 1947, teaches in the Oakland City, Indiana High School, where she is in charge of the music program.

Three Seniors Are Elected To Phi Delta Lambda

Three graduating seniors have been inducted into the Zeta Chapter of Phi Delta Lambda, national honor society of the colleges of the Church of the Nazarene. Raymond Cowan, Phyllis Lobb, and Judith Magnusson were honored at a breakfast on June 6 in the college banquet room.

To be eligible for membership, the graduates must have an average scholastic standing of 2.5 for their entire college record.

College Class Night Is June 2

"As We Go We Remember" was the theme of College Class Night presented by graduating seniors on Friday evening, June 2.

Decorating the stage was a large arch entwined with green honeysuckle vine, accented by red and white carnations. The senior girls wore dresses of pastel shades of color, and the boys wore dark suits.

Phyllis Lobb sang "This is the End of Your College Day" in the opening of the program of reminiscence. Then each senior introduced a senior as they walked one by one from the arch marked "Yesterday" and passed through the arch marked "Tomorrow." Bob Mitchell, senior class president, introduced the first senior, recalling events of that person's college career that he will remember as he enters "Tomorrow."

A special musical feature was a rendition of "It's Almost Tomorrow" by Karen Cox, Edith Mingle-dorff, Linda Cook, Yvonne Rhodes, Wendell Poole, Joe Moses, Melvin Welch, and Orval LeJeune.

To climax the program, all the seniors assembled under the arch and sang the "Alma Mater."

Miss Barbara McClain, Senior Class sponsor, and Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Mackey gave a reception after the class night program. All seniors and their husbands and wives were invited.

Money For Music Project Is Success

Every class and club participated in the M and M Project, Money for Music, sponsored by the Student Council.

The Junior and Senior Classes and the Science and Music Clubs went over their assigned goals, and the Future Teachers Club attained its goal. All other classes and clubs reached at least half their goals. The TAA, although not assigned a definite goal, contributed $200 to the project. The total amount received was just $51.44 short. The Student Council will provide the remainder.

The money received in the project will be used to purchase equipment for a listening room in the Mackey Library, plus a stereophonic console for the Fine Arts classrooms. In the library listening rooms there will be two hi-fi listening units with five sets of earphones each.

Denny Hage, treasurer of the Student Council, was in charge of the project.

Appreciation Extended To The Klintstivers

Getting up at 4 o'clock every morning sounds fantastic, but it is all part of a day's work for Rev. and Mrs. Charles Klintstiver.

Under Mr. Klintstiver's management the T-Room underwent a remodeling. New booths, counters and other new equipment were installed.

New Port Richey, Florida, was the home of the Klintstiver family before they moved to Trevecca seven years ago. Mrs. Catherine Klintstiver has been a faithful helper for her husband during his four years in our cafeteria. Ruth Ann, their daughter, is in the ninth grade at Central High School. Charles Klintstiver, Jr., graduated from Trevecca last year.

Rev. Klintstiver, graduating with a Th.B. degree, plans to enter the pastorate, probably on the Tennessee District.

Mr. Klintstiver is king of the culinary arts around here. We will miss his faithful service. In appreciation our Trevecca family would like to say a great big "Thank you."

Rev. Shumake, Professor Chambers Receive Honorary Doctorate Degrees

REV. C. E. SHUMAKE

PROF. LEON CHAMBERS

At commencement this evening, the Doctor of Divinity degree will be conferred upon Rev. C. E. Shumake and Professor Leon Chambers.

Rev. C. E. Shumake, of Nashville, Tennessee, is superintendent of the Tennessee District of the Church of the Nazarene.

Mr. Shumake became superintendent in October, 1957. Prior to this assignment, he served as superintendent for many years of the Alabama and North Carolina Districts.

Widely known in the evangelical holiness field, Mr. Shumake also has been active in the denomination as a pastor and evangelist.

Mr. Shumake has written several articles for church publications. Three of these have been printed in booklet form. They are entitled: "Our Task," "Holiness in Action," and "Christ the King."

Dr. Powers

Dr. Powers' missionary book, And Now New Guinea was a Nazarene best-seller. He also has written The Ninety-and-Nine Plus One, a book on evangelism; and a comparative study of the Nazarene Church manual.

From Where I Stand

by

Billy Joe Ricbey

With their 14 to 5 victory over the Deltas, May 23, the Betas sewed up the softball championship and became the first team to be a triple crown winner since the organization of the TAA.

In winning the softball title they came from the bottom to become the undisputed champs, not only in one phase of the sports but in all three.

Playing under the leadership of Jimmy Stocks, the Betas started their drive last fall by winning the football title, dethroning the defending champion Alphas. In the basketball race, Captain Roger Costa and the hustling team bounced the Alphas again for the title.

With spring came softball with the Delta's strong contenders to take the title again this year. Despite the fact that the Betas did not have anyone strong on the mound at the start, they came up with the combination that clicked, and with it Morton Estep and his men bounced all comers to win the crown. Their drive ended this spring, but not until they had picked themselves up from being the doormat of TAA sports to reign as the champions.

This new position came only through a strong desire to win and plenty of grit and team cooperation, a lesson that all of the teams can take and use.

The man that leads the field of batters with the highest average this year is big Gene Cook. When Cook stepped to the plate he just put a little weight behind the ball and in 20 times up he pounded out 12 hits for a healthy .600 average. Following him is Wendell Poole (9-17) with a .529, while Lowell Clyburn is third (10-25) with an even .400. Don Irwin (12-31) is fourth with .387 and close behind him for fifth is Fred Cunningham (12-33) with .364.

Rounding out the top ten are the next five in this order: Fred Cobbs (10-29) .345; Hugh Smith (5-15) and Leverne Deel (6-18) each with .333; Paul Andrus (6-18) .316; and Charles Kirby (6-20) .300.

In the opinion of the TREV-ECHOES sports staff, Fred Cunningham is the best all-around softball player of the season. Cunningham, a freshman, has the catcher end of the Beta batteries that clinched the title. Fred stood fifth in batting averages for the season, but it not only this that makes him stand out. Seeing him in action on the field makes you realize that he is right at home in this game. Covering home plate with ease, and backing first and third bases with better than average sharpness make him stand out. At the plate Fred has belted out 12 hits in 33 trips to the plate for a .364 average. The Deltas and Alphas can look forward to one fact: that they will play against this home coverage for the next three seasons.

Working under some strenuous problems and difficulties at times for the past three years, Wendell Poole has done a job well worth commending as president of the TAA.

The TAA has made tremendous progress under his leadership. So, to Wendell Poole, graduating senior Alpha, good athlete, good sportsman, and a wonderful Christian, here are congratulations on a job well done.

Anna Kollio

"I feel at home here because everyone is so friendly and nice to me," she said. "I feel that it was in God's plan for me to attend Trevecca for I have been spiritually helped. I know the peace that only God can give."

To all she wants to say "Thank you" for being so kind and understanding to her and added, "I will try to be the best representative of Trevecca in Greece that I can."

"Sayonara" Is Theme Of High School Junior-Senior Banquet

A Japanese good-bye was given the graduating seniors of Trevecca High School at their annual Junior-Senior Banquet on May 20 in the cafeteria banquet room.

"Sayonara" (good-bye in Japanese) was the theme of the event, given by the junior class under sponsorship of Miss Marie Peery. The girls who served wore Japanese kimono, and the boys wore white serving jackets and coolie hats.

Japanese lanterns hung throughout the banquet room and a Japanese garden decorated the entrance. The students made amusing attempts at using chopsticks, which were the only eating utensils given until after the appetizer. Japanese music completed the Oriental atmosphere.

Missionary Fellowship Elects Officers

At a luncheon on May 26 the Missionary Fellowship elected the following officers for 1961-62.

Paul Andrus, president; John Clayton, vice-president; Winifred Davidson, secretary; John Hall, Jr., treasurer; Brenda Gould, reporter; and Professor K. W. Phillips, sponsor.

Quartet, Trio To Represent Trevecca In Summer Travel

Representing Trevecca as they sing this summer are Phyllis Lobb, Claire Goodman, and Betty Harrison, who will travel with Miss Marie Perry. Travelling with Rev. C. E. Keys will be James Foster, Bob Rouse, Jerry Appleby, and Douglas Askew.

Faculty-Senior Breakfast Is June 1

The Faculty-Senior Breakfast, an annual event at Trevecca, was June 1 in the college banquet room.

Spring flowers decorated the tables. The program was centered around the DARDA theme, "From These Roots." The seniors' motto is "Be a job great or small, we do it well or not at all."

Dr. Homer J. Adams challenged the seniors with his subject, "Our Jobs, Great or Small," and Bob Mitchell, president of the Senior Class, responded with "Ours to Do Them Well."

A reading was presented by Mrs. Paul Greene and the traditional story was given by Miss Amy Person.

"Halls of Ivy" Is High School Class Night Theme

"Halls of Ivy" was the theme of the high school Class Night program in the McClurkin auditorium, June 1.

The class history was read by Beverly Donegan, the class prophecy by Sue Ann Beeler, and class will by Genell Voss. Carol Richardson and Janice Warren, juniors, served as giftarians.

Various musical numbers were presented by the high school students, and Tommie Jean Howard accompanied on the organ.

Five Trevecca Alumni Receive B.D. Degrees

Five alumni of Trevecca College received degrees at the Nazarene Theological Seminary in Kansas City in May.

Charles Lee Eby of Miami, Florida, who has earned the A.B. and B.D. degrees, is called to the mission field. He has served as president of Bresee Society at the seminary.

The other four graduates are called to pastoral ministry. They are: E. Wendell Williams, A.B., B.D., of Greenbrier, Tennessee; John Dean Adams, A.B., B.D., of Warren, Ohio; Billy David Crane, A.B., B.D., of Little Rock, Arkansas; and James Harry Errickson, A.B., B.D., of Clearwater, Florida.

Choir Presents Recital, June 3

On Saturday, June 3, at 8:00 p.m. the A Cappella Choir presented its annual recital with Professor Ramon Unruh directing and Miss Barbara McClain as the accompanist.

Betty Harrison at the organ and Ed Allred at the piano presented the prelude. The program was taken from their regular choir tour program. Lois Conkey, Jeanette Beel, Joe Moses, and Jerry Appleby were soloists.

Rev. Clifford E. Keys, field representative, gave his greetings and introduced the traveling groups for the summer, the Joy Tones and the Evangelairs.

An instrumental number featured Jerry Appleby, trombonist and James Van Hook, trompetist.

The choir closed the season with the benediction, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."
