EDUCATION DEPARTM Participates in New ROGRAM FOR STUDENT

are participating in the Teacher Education Alliance for Nashville Metropolitan Schools (TEAM) this quarter. This program is designed to develop a teacher education program which will more adequately prepare teachers for the inter-city schools. The seven Trevecca students taking part in TEAM are Diana Ross, William Buttrey, Mary Fish, Linda Harder, Pat White, Linda Whited and Brenda C. Smith, Three faculty members , Dr. Paul Cleckner, Prof. John Moore and Prof. Clifton Taylor are also participating in the TEAM project.

Trevecca is one of only seven colleges and universities participating in the TEAM project, which is organized under the United States Office of Education. The other participants are student teachers from George Peabody College, Vanderbilt University, Tennessee State University, and Belmont College. The TEAM project is unique, not only to Nashville, but to the United States and it is hoped that it will bridge the gap between the undergraduate experience of teachers and the life experiences of inter-city students.

The student teachers will be attending seminar classes with Sociologists , Psychologist and Educators from the Vanderbilt and Pea-body faculty. They will also be observing in the communities and schools until Nov. 5, when they will begin their actual teaching experience. The seminars will study community problems, social problems of the disadvantaged and the educational methods of teaching disadvantaged children.
Prof. John Moore is enthusiastic about the TEAM project and the op-portunity for Trevecca to participate in the program. He feels that this is a recognition of the quality of our teacher education program and our overall academic program. This experience will not only help the student teachers, but will help our education department in preparing teachers to serve the needs of the inter-city schools, strengthening our role as a teacher-of-

NEW JERSEY, PRINCETON, September 14. College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the four different test dates announced today by Educational Testing Service, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for the testing of prospective teachers are: November 14, 1970, and January 30, April 3, and July 17, 1971. The test will be given at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States, ETS said.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or licensing of teachers. Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examination. The school systems and state departments of education which use the examination results are listed in an NTE leaflet entitled "Score Users" which may be obtained by writing to ETS.

Top Scholars Recognized!

The discovery of "self" is a breakthrough in the field of creative personality. It is a creative personality which enhances scholarship. However, scholarship is more than a grant-in-aid to a student. It is the character, qualities, or attainments of a scholar.

To encourage outstanding scholastic achievement, a full tuition scholarship is given each year to the member of each class who has the highest scholastic rating.

This year's Senior scholar is Brenda Smith who comes from Dublin, Georgia. Brenda is a Business Administration major and a Home Ec. minor. She spent part of her summer working with the Student Mission Corps being appointed to Panama. Brenda says that the thing she likes most about Trevecca is being with others my own age.

The Junior scholar is Marie Rhoden who is the daughter of missionaries in Fukueka, Japan, She is interested in foreign cultures; especially the Orient. She finds the biggest difference in language. Temporarily she plans to teach English in Japan and possibly later go into mission work.

Holder of the Sophomore class scholarship is Peggy Ann Smith from Walterboro, South Carolina. She is a Business Education major who plans to teach on the high school level. Peggy's main like of Trevecca is its Christian atmosphere. She also enjoys being with people and making new friends.

Dr. Stanton Parry, the Dean of Trevecca, relates that "The class of 1974 has one of the finest academic preparations of any class to ever enter Trevecca." Twentythree students scored in the 89 percentile or above on the American College Test (A.C.T.) which is based on national norms of college bound students, and should represent high scholastic attainment at T.N.C.

Experiences. Seven T.N.C. students traveled to various parts of the world to be student missionaries for ten weeks this past summer, in co-operation with the department of Youth and World Missions. Sharon Cronise, Karen England Paulette Johnson, Diane Murphree, Brenda Smith, Phil Bowles, and Bill Chambers were among the students chosen from our Nazarene Colleges and Bible Schools. The Trevecca S.M.C. members were sent to such countries as Haiti, El Salvador, Panama, Trinidad, and Guiana. The students learn more about the work done on our mission fields.

Four of the seven who did not graduate, and a new student from Mt. Vernon College, Debbie Lore, will speak in Student Council chapel on October 22. The five will be relating a little of their summer's experience.

When asked about her summer experience, Sharon Cronise said, "It was a summer of varied and exciting experiences. It was very educational and I felt like I actually accomplished something for the Lord." She went on to say that it changed her views of missionary life.

This year's sponsor for the Student Missionary Corp is Dr. Wynkoop. Later the dates will be posted as to when and where to pick up applications for the 1971 summer.

Dr. Moore, Mr. Oman, and Mr. Richards view work on athletic field.

ATHLETIC FIELD RENOVATION GREETS SCHOOL YEAR

One of the most surprising and welcome additions to the rapidly improving Trevecca College campus is the new athletic field.

Returning students, new students, and faculty members alike were greeted by this very pleasant sight.

The work accomplished to date has been done through the courtesy and benevolence of Mr. Sirton Oman, President of Oman Construction Company, utilizing the talents of his well qualified and construction and landscaping crews. They are indeed qualified for Mr. Oman's crews only recently completed the largest earthen dam in the United States and are responsible for much construction on the interstate highway system.

The men worked for the better part of a month on the approximately 12 acre project. Approximately 20,000 yards of dirt was moved and graded with an additional 1,500 in yards of stone blasted and moved.

Such construction machinery as a bulldozer, and several graders were used in addition to an air compresser and rock drill.

Mr. Wesley Bentley, in charge of campus maintance, advises that the University of Tennessee was asked to send a group of men to take soil samples. This was done in order to insure the usage of the type and amount of grass seed and also have the surface comparable to that of U.T.'s football field in Knoxville.

Dr. Mark Moore, president of Trevecca College is very excited about the thought of an up-to-date athletic field to complement the already completed paysical education center.

"It was hoped," he said, "to have the work completed in time for tall football, however present plans are now to have the complex in use (Continued p. 4, col. 5)

The first Trevecca Leadership Retreat has ended and time has allowed some ideas from it to rise to the surface. The final group discussion on Saturday night was centered around the theme "I have a dream for Trevecca." It quickly became apparent that everyone's dream included the hope of Trevecca growing and better serving her constituency and the world at large. Student leaders, faculty and administrators all expressed dreams which reflected this hope. Considering this unity in dreams for Trevecca's future brings up the question of how to achieve the fulfillment of these dreams.

The obvious answer is for everyone to get busy and start working toward this goal. The not so obvious part is the motivation which would be required for this job. For one to be effective and work faithfully at trying to make dreams for Trevecca's future come true he must meet several requirements.

He must believe in what the College is trying to do. If one does not believe in higher education in a Christian environment there is no reason to support a school such as Trevecca. He must believe in an education which is designed to prepare a person for a life of sevice to people. Any school can give an education, but Trevecca's aim of preparing the student for a life of service is unique.

The most important requirement, however, is a dedication to Christ. This is what makes the other conditions possible. Could one ever believe in Christian higher education without being a dedicated Christian? Perhaps, but not enough to put out the effort required to make dreams come true. The dedicated Christian is also the one who can see the need for a service oriented education. The closer one comes to Christ and the cause of spreading His gospel the more important service to people becomes.

This may seem to be an oversimplification, but is it really? The spirit and fellowship shared at the Leadership Retreat indicates that it may not be. Making dreams come true requires dedication, cooperation and a lot of work. No one is better prepared to meet these requirements than a dedicated, dynamic Christian. Let's try it together. If each member of the Trevecca Community will come to the point of complete dedication to Christ we might see some dreams come true, sooner than expected.

EXPRESS YOUR VIEWS ON CAMPUS LIFE.

Use The Letters to the Editors Column.

DO YOU HAVE DOUBTS?

by Dr. William J. Strickland

Most collegians are faced at one time or another with the problem of doubt. If you have never had any doubts, take a nap and don't bother to read any further. On the other hand, if this be true, you are already asleep. For most people who think seriously about reality face questions for which there are no easy, ready-made answers.

Perhaps it will be helpful to distinguish between two kinds of words used in the New Testament to refer to doubt. On the one hand, there is doubt as a "negative disbelief" which is usually associated with disobedience and rebellion against the will of God. Such doubt is always sinful and is a deadly for of spiritual life. On the other hand, there is doubt which means "without a way, perplexed, searching, probing, questioning." This may be called "honest doubt" and is a genuine search for truth. It may be the growing edge of spiritual life since the soul that asks no questions gets no answers.

Our problems usually arise in confusing these two meanings of doubt. Collegians who know the will of God and what is right or wrong may try to rationalize and excuse their disobedience by what they call their questions. Or, those who face serious questions for which there are no easy answers may think that all doubt is sin and thus throw up their hands and quit. One may have many honest questions without any sinful doubt if he learns to keep a committed will, obedient attitude, and face the questions and problems with an honest appraisal.

What does a collegian Christian do when honest doubts arise, when its hard to believe? I would offer four practical suggestions which I hope will be helpful. First, when doubt threatens to displace faith, don't push the panic button - - someone has been there before you. Honest doubt is no respector of persons. The Psalmist cried, "How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord? How long wilt thou hide thy face from me?" Job said, "I cry unto thee and thou dost not answer me. Oh that I knew where I might find him." John the Baptist once sent his disciples to Jesus, saying, "Are you the one or shall we look for an-other?" Even Jesus wrestled with this problem when he said, "My God, my God, why hast thou for saken me?" Outside of the Bible, there are similar testimonies for Mugustime, Luther, Calvin, Knox, Arminius, Wesley and many others. So, when doubts arise, instead of pushing the panic button, thank God for a mind that can think and ask questions. Honest doubt has played an important role in human life and can be the way to progress and growth. What if no one had ever questioned ideas such as the earth is flat, witchcraft supersitition, and that God foreordains some persons to eternal hell before they are ever

Second, remember that all intellectual problems have never been solved. Too often we want our neat little package-made answers to some of the big questions of life. Browe's dictum that "life is larger than logic" is true in the sense that reality often transcends our ready-made formulations and we find that much has been left out of these tied-up packages of truth. God has not chosen to give us all the answers to our questions. Job never found answers to all his "whys" but he did receive a vision of God who is supremely trustworthy and that way enough. Nicodemus was puzzled over problems of the psychology of the new birth-'how can these things be?'' Jesus replied, 'consider the wind, you know not whence it cometh or whither it goeth.'' How God works, we do not fully understand, That He works, we can never doubt. Thus there ought to be a place for mystery and the supernatural in our faith.

A third suggestion when its hard to believe or doubt arises is to consider the alternatives. As someone has said, "even growing old isn't so bad when you consider th alternative." If you think faith has its problems, remember that unbelief has more problems. Suppose, for example, a collegian finds it hard to believe in immortality or life after death. The alternative would be to say that death ends it all, and spirit, mind and personality exist finally for the worms of the ground . Any thinking person knows that this is not true. Or, consider the alternatives of denying the possibility of a clean heart either God takes more pleasure in unrighteousness that holiness, or He is unable to undo what sin has done. God is therefore either not good or not sovereign.

Finally, remember that honest doubt can and should be overcome by faith. One cannot inherit faith. Rather, it must be personally appropriated and sometimes fought for by intense struggle. Thomas overcame his doubt concerning the resurrection and confessed, "My Lord and by God." When Philip faced the scornful doubt of Nathaniel over whether or not any good thing could come out of Nazareth, he did not argue back but simply said, "Come and see for yourself." Many have come and found doubt overcome by faith. Thus we should drive our religious faith back to its true basis in experience. The fact that I met God one day and he transformed my life is something I can never doubt though I may have a thousand unanswered questions.

What should I do then with honest doubts? We expect them, use them, and meet them with "ice" and "fire." But be sure the ice is in the head and the fire is in the heart. "I have faith," said the father of a sick child to Jesus, "help me where faith falls short" (Mark 9:24; N.E.B.). Make your daily prayer that of Bisop Moule:

Lord and Saviour, true and kind,
Be the master of my mind.
Bless and guide, and strengthen still,
All my powers of thought and will.

While I ply the scholar's task, Jesus Christ, be near, I ask, Help the memory, clear the brain, Knowledge still to seek and gain.

Thou has made me, mind and soul, I for thee would use the whole. Thou has died that I might live, All my powers to Thee I give.

Striving, thinking, learning still, Let me follow thus Thy Will. Till my whole glad nature be, Trained for duty and for Thee.

The Big Fashion Question?

Pam Johnson

Well here it is again, another year at TNC and the big question---What to Wear? Like most of the girls you probably ran frantically around looking for something that would make you stand out in a crowd. The way to start off a great year making you a part of TNC's atmosphere, is to create an image for you and no one else.

Take for example a plain simple school dress, add a pearl necklace, chunk heels and sheer stockings and there you have a beautiful dinner or evening dress.

You must remember when planning your wardrobe the three basic classes in dress attire. The first class is afternoon wear which consists of a simple dress, skirt or blouse. Sandels can be worn as long as the weather is nice and warm. The five o'clock dress is that of jewelry, stockings, and heels which can be worn at five but continue to be worn after nine. The last class is the evening wear that is best worn on very special occasions such as formal dinners or weddings which ever calls for gloves and long gowns. As winter approaches, the new look is the MIDI coat which is practical in that it will keep you warm and keep you from getting frost bite. This coat can be worn if and only if it fits you personality and adjusts to the other kinds of clothes you have. When you try to set a look for yourself always remember, it is the people looking at what you are wearing and not at you. Take pride in what you wear and also in grooming for we are the mirror that represents Trevecca and reflects on

Art Club Host Exhibit

The Art Club at Trevecca Nazarene College has announced plans for an exciting program this school year. The plans are arranged to include all students, staff, and faculty as well as the community.

The first venture is now in process in Gallery II(old Library II) and includes a show of woodcuts by Peabody students. This exhibit will run until October 23, 1970. Other planned exhibits will come from University of Tennessee, Fisk University, Peabody College and Trevecca College students.

Another feature of the program will be a series of workshops located in McM 304. Scheduled are demonstrations in tie dying, batik, decoupage, candle making, tissue paper flower making, water coloring, oil painting and basic drawing. The Art Club hopes that everyone will take advantage of these workshops and become more familiar with the various art media.

Encounters Phase II

Life and the excitement of it set the pace as the dawning of the Encounter's second year begins to unfold. The new group gathered on campus September 8 and it was soon evident that with much practice and hard work new horizons of musical excellence could be attained.

So the work began. In the following week, the Encounters spent up to fourteen hours a day in musical practice, gab sessions, and spiritual study. Friday, September II, work resumed at the beautiful Easter Seal Camp on Old Hickory Lake with more practice, exercise, and opportunity to get acquainted. Dr. Cleckner and Mr. Bob Benson were special quests speaking to us on the topics of relating our mission in church music to the present and serving others. This tremendous week-end ended with ten stitches, a swollen ankle, and various voice problems, but more importantly, it ended with a close bond within the group as the members began to grasp the common goal of presenting the thrill of Christian living in song.

Practice still goes on and the voices are all about normal again as the Encounters look forward to an exciting year of travel and Christian witness. It's a whole new group this year but the message is the same and the Encounters invite you to listen and turn on to Christ and real "Life."

TEST DATES FOR NATIONAL TEACHER -

spective teachers may take the Common Examinations which measure their professional preparation and general cultural background, and a Teaching Area Examination which measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

The Bulletin of Information for Candidates contains a list of test centers, and information about the examinations, as well as a Registration Form. Copies may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments, or directly from National Teacher Examinations, Box 911, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

ATHLETIC FIELD -

(Continued from p. 1, col. 3) for spring baseball and other activities. The completion of the project, will result in a great deal of use being taken from the physical education center in that we will have tennis courts, as well as the aforementioned baseball and football."

Coach Bill Boner is very optimistic about an expanding intercollegiate sports program with the possibility of a track team in the near future.

The reaction to the athletic field by one student was that he felt he now had a real sense of pride the Trevecca campus, particularly because he was an avid sports participant and fan.

Another student very likely expressed the opinion of the entire student body by saying that he felt the athletic field was undoubtedly the most appreciated contribution to Trevecca College.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION PLANS ACTIVE YEAR

By ERNIE LEWIS

express my feelings about 1970-71 year for the Trevecca Athletic Association I would have to borrow the words of Rev. John Hancock, "Boy, Am I enthused!"

By the time you read this edition of Trev-Echoes, each student should be aware of which society he has been placed on; the football equipment passed out; and each team preparing for this fall's battles on the gridiron.

Due to the fact that the athletic field is not ready for use, we will be playing our football games at Central High School. The plans are for the first games to be played Saturday morning, October 17, 1970.

Looking at the teams, it appears that this year could be the closest and most exciting year we've had in T.A.A. football. The Deltas will be rebuilding after losing a number of their stars from last year's championship team, but they still have Jim (Ponco) Ponce, M.V.P. of last year. The Beta Society will also have several important positions to fill, although most of their players, such as All-Stars, Bob Newton and Al Young, will be returning hoping to improve on last year's second-place finish. The alphas welcome with open arms the return of Charlie Hare. They will be counting on the help of new students to replace such players as Preston Ponce, Al Boatman (who is playing Varsity Basketball), and other key players. This could be the year that the Cammas make their big bid for the football crown with players such as Fred Huff, Dennis Snodgrass, Larry Thompson, and a number of other qualified players. The Gammae are beginning to look tough.

The key to a great year is in your hands. Everyone's participation will make 1970-71 an exciting school year.

Women

With all the new additions and innovations on the campus of $\overline{\text{TNC}}$ this year, the women's athletic program is taking on a new look as well. With the addition of a new full time staff member in this area the future looks promising for the gals on Trevecca's campus who interested in competition in sports activities. Mrs. Donoho is the new Women's Athletic Director. She is very anxious to get the new program underway with the four societies competing in a round of Softball beginning within the next two weeks. Basketball for the gals is planned for the Winter Term as well as volleyball. Mrs. Donoho hopes that enough interest will be shown in the minor sports areas to have individual tournaments in swimming, badminton, table tennis, golf; only to mention a few. The minor tournaments will be held in the winter and spring. Also a track and field day is in the making and will be held in the Spring, hopefully on the new athletic complex.

This program is a voluntary way in which girls can participate in fun type activities. It is designed for the girls who want to participate. All are invited. Every girl will be given an opportunity to play for her society regardless of her skill level. Most of the officiating will be done by the Director of the program until students are trained to carry out this part of the program.

The new director is optimistic about the prospects for a very successful program. She believes girls are basically interested in competition and will respond if given the opportunity to participate. With the removal of the TAA fee and the fact that prime time will be offered for the women's intramural program to function, this should be the greatest year yet in Trevecca's history the women students who enjoy athletics.
