Howick Heads V. G. Services

Professor William H. Howick is to head the Vocational Guidance services. While taking graduate work for the M.A., the M.E.D. and toward a doctorate, Professor Howick has done graduate study and research in the field of guidance. In addition to his formal training, he brings to this task a real heart-interest in the welfare of young people, and an energetic enthusiasm for educational and vocational guidance.

A settled goal for one's life's work is not only vital to personal happiness but is also important to the meaningfulness of one's college work. To have a definite and delightful goal adds a zest to one's whole scholastic program. The ideal would be to get settled on a vocational plan early in your college career—the first year or two, if possible—so your curriculum can be selected accordingly.

We hope to give students valuable guidance and help as they prayerfully and carefully seek God's will for their lives. I believe our students will find in Professor Howick a real Christian friend, an able counselor, and one who will work untiringly for the best interests of those desiring his services.

Va. District Gives Free Turkey Dinner

On Friday, January 22 a free turkey dinner was given to the faculty and students under the sponsorship of the Virginia Club.

At the Virginia District Camp-meeting it was voted that the district would provide this free turkey dinner for the faculty members and students of Trevecca. It was the first time that anything like this had ever been undertaken.

Mrs. Phillips, sponsor of the Virginia Club, opened the evening with prayer; then approximately three hundred fifty guests were served.

The cafeteria was appropriately decorated featuring Virginia. In the background was a large map completely surrounded by dogwood which is the state flower.

The advertising campaign was very well managed by Vivian Hott and Nancy Thorpe.

After the banquet a film was shown on places of interest in Virginia.

We, the students and faculty, wish to express our appreciation to the Virginia District for this delicious dinner.

High School Presents Patriotic Play

Friday evening, January 29 in the Alumni Auditorium, a one-act patriotic play entitled "Fires at Valley Forge," was presented under the direction of Dr. H. J. Adams, High School Principal, with the assistance from Miss Mabel Cooner, head of the college speech department.

The cast included about fifteen high school students, with Dick Keffer acting as narrator. They all did an excellent job and our appreciation for this remarkable evening goes to Dr. Adams for his fine selection of the cast.

Everyone enjoyed the production very much, and hopes there will be more events such as this.

The ushers and usherettes were Sammy Phipps, Frances Collier, Phillip Goode, and Myra Smith.

Journalism Class Writes N. Y. P. S. Play

The journalism class agreed to write the N. Y. P. S. program for the Trevecca Zone to be used for College Day later in the year. The class appointed Carol Asbury as chairman. She has proved to be very efficient and has presented some very worthwhile ideas.

The program is a short play entitled, "Glimpses of T. N. C." and is composed of four scenes portraying the social, educational and religious activities of T. N. C. The characters are two visiting high school seniors who plan to enroll in Trevecca and some of the present students.

The purpose of this play is to present Trevecca College to the young people throughout the Southeastern Educational Zone and to encourage them to make Trevecca their choice.

Evangelist — Poet Speaks In Chapel

Rev. Charles Hastings Smith, well-known evangelist and poet, appeared in chapel on January 28, and 29. Bro. Smith is a full time commissioned evangelist using his poetry in his evangelism as may seem desirable. He has been in evangelistic work for twelve years and has covered the forty-eight states in this work. He graduated from Bethany-Penial college in 1940 receiving an A.B. degree. He also has the Th. B. degree. His major fields were English and Theology. He was assistant pastor at Little Rock First Church for a while after being graduated. He married November 22, 1953, in Ontario, California. He writes mostly religious and humorous poetry and has written about two hundred poems in all. He uses the rhyming couplet and iambic pentameter, mostly the four line stanza with alternating rhyme. When asked for a statement concerning evangelism in the church, he said the following. "The first thing people detect in an evangelist is sincerity. I think laymen have grown tired of high pressure. The people want sincerity."

Dr. H. C. Powers To Present Lecture

Dr. Hardy C. Powers, "The Senior General Superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene," of Dallas, Texas, will deliver the John T. Benson Lectures, January 14-19. Dr. Powers will present lectures in the regular chapel services as well as regular evening services. Dr. Powers is planning as his theme "Evangelism." These lectures are sponsored by John T. Benson, Jr. each year in memory of the late John T. Benson, Sr., long a supporter and benefactor of Trevecca Nazarene College.

Dr. Powers attended Pasadena College, California. Later Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, Idaho, conferred on him the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree.

In 1926 Dr. Powers accepted his first pastorate at Cocamonga, California. In 1931 he was called to serve at Council Bluffs, Iowa. In 1936 he was elected superintendent of the Iowa district.

Dr. Powers has been an active member of the General Board for four years and has held such offices as Vice-President, Chairman of the Department of Publication, and is a member of the Department of Foreign Missions. He is thoroughly familiar with the home and foreign missions program carried on by the Church of the Nazarene.

Dr. Powers has traveled extensively.

New Emphasis

A sense of God's presence melted the hearts of the members of the recent General Council meeting of the Nazarene Young People's Society. Reverend Wm. M. Greathouse attended the meeting in Kansas City as the Trevecca College Zone Representative.

After re-thinking the objectives of the Society, it was concluded that many of our local societies fail to cope with the needs of our youth. Too often the local program is, in Rev. Greathouse's terms, "anemic, dull, insipid, lacking definite objectives."

The Council feels that there are two major needs of the N.Y.P.S. First, we need to re-emphasize the original objective of personal evangelism. We also need to shift the study program. The Council recommends: "That our study program be shifted, and the local societies be alerted to remake the weekly service into a training period, touching the areas of churchmanship, personal evangelism, personal problems, and general devotional and inspirational interest, which will equip our youth to be strong Christians." Bro. Greathouse emphasized that there will not be minimization of the spiritual emphasis. The efforts to assist the young

CHAPEL BELLS

Ding! Dong! T. N. C. students have eagerly listened for the chapel bells these last two weeks because of the special services that have been held. We have certainly been blessed with outstanding speakers. Dr. Mackey began the week with a report from the General board meeting at Kansas city. As usual Dr. Mackey interspersed in his message some good truths for us all.

The next day we were privileged to have Dr. Adolph Mahler, a converted Jew, to speak for us. Dr. Mahler was born in Austria and converted at the age of thirty. He has gone through many trials for when he was converted his father got all of Dr. Mahler's possessions, put them in a casket, brought a tombstone, put his name on it, dug a grave and as far as he was concerned his son was dead. Dr. Mahler's life has been threatened, his car bombed, and his trailer completely demolished because he preached holiness. Still he stands triumphant on the promises of God. Dr. Mahler was with us two days in which he preached on "Power," using the thirty-sixth chapter of Ezekiel and then brought the customs of the Jewish Passover to us. Dr. Mahler dressed in the clothes worn by the head of the house at Passover time and went through the regular Jewish ritual, but covered it with a Christian veneer.

The following day Dr. Bracken also gave some reports from the General board meeting. He reported that the Thanksgiving offering was the largest in the history of the church. He also reported on the progress of the Publishing House. Dr. Bracken closed with the inspiring statement, "Let's remember to thank God day and night for a Holiness church which is clean cut and one that is on the march for God and souls."

Again Dr. Mackey gave an enlightening talk on "What part our Christian colleges should have in the program of the church of the Nazarene."

We were favored with another outside speaker on January 26-27. This was Rev. Lilburn Adkins, returned missionary from Africa. Rev Adkins brought us fearful stories of the famed Mau-Mau Society which is playing a big part in the politics of Kenya Colony. The other message was taken from the twelfth chapter of first Corinthians using the words, 'Yet

Valentine Banquet

To Be January 13

Have you noticed our visitor around the campus who seems to be so popular? His name should be familiar to all, but in case some haven't gotten acquainted yet, I would like to introduce you to "Mr. Cupid." He has been fluttering around because his birthday is drawing near — Feb. 14, 1954. The college sophomore class has volunteered to celebrate it with a Valentine Banquet at 7:00 p.m. January 13. Mr. Cupid was really thrilled when he saw the girls busily unpacking their formal dresses out of moth balls; the boys turning to their favorite florists and in a sly way, trying to find out what color their girls were wearing and the faculty practicing their serving etiquette as they plan to be the waiters and waitresses. When Mr. Cupid heard the program he could hardly control himself, but we made him promise not to tell a soul. We do not want to spoil the surprise by telling you, but just come prepared to hear romantic music, readings, and skits. Every T. N. C. student and faculty member is invited and the charge is only $1.35 a plate. Please come! Let us make this a night we will never forget.

people in becoming spiritually strong.

These plans involve a change in publications. The re-programming will be orientated on a local plane in the fall of 1954. Personal evangelism will be the theme of the orientational programs.

The full shift to a training emphasis will come after the General Convention of 1956.

The Council members searched their hearts in prayer and closed the meeting with impassioned souls.

show I you a more excellent way." He explained that the missionaries were showing the natives a more excellent way in their home life, in their physical needs, and in getting salvation.

The week was closed by the visit of Charles Hastings Smith to our service. The students laughed and cried as Bro. Smith thrilled all of us with his beautiful poetry.

At the Big Four meeting in Berlin, Russia stalled the conference from taking up the German peace problem and fought to compel the bi western powers to acknowledge Red China as an equal. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov refused to accept the Allied plans for the present conference. Molotov contends for a Big Five conference which would include Red China. He continued with an 80-minute speech repeating his Big Five proposal in detail.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who was heading the western opposition, said that Molotov was trying to "fritter our time in discussing whether and how to set up a new conference" instead of getting started on the unification of Germany and granting Austria her independence. Dulles emphasized that these two problems were the whole purpose of the Big Four meeting. If they are solved, "then, and then only, can we stand before the world as capable of assuming other and heavier tasks," he concluded.

Frances George Bidault, backing up Dulles at the conference, frankly told Molotov, who was his dinner host one night last week, "You disapprove of the regime I represent, but I in turn disapprove of Yours." Bidault added, however, that if the facts and situations of Red Chinese rulers were to change, a Big Five meeting might be considered.

Here in America our Senate has been about to make a very important decision. The decision, What to do with the Briker amendment? The amendment which is proposed by Senator John Bricker (R-Ohio) is dealing with some changes in the present Constitution. The decision will indeed be a fateful decision. The exigent question is presented, "Isn't the present constitution working rather well?" The debate quickly secured national attention. The public galleries of the Senate were jammed as the debate began.

Perhaps we will know the Senate's decision by the time Trev-Echoes is printed. Hence, the Bricker amendment.

CAFETERIA DESTROYED - SCHOOL TO REBUILD

Flames gush from the roof and windows of the Cafeteria annex to McKay Hall, girls dormitory. The cafeteria was entirely destroyed and the dormitory badly damaged.

Inquiring Reporter Interviews Girls

By Bill T. Robinson

I felt that many would like to have a detailed report of what was lost by the girls who lived in McKay, so we got out notebook and started listing. About twenty girls were interviewed, but due to lack of space, we will not include all of the interviews. We asked each girl to give her name, classification in school and home town. Then we asked for an account of her loss, plus any comment she would like to make.

VICKIE HOWARD, high school sophomore, Richmond, Kentucky. Lost everything except the clothes she had on. No coat on at the time. Lost good luggage. Radio damaged; possibly can be repaired. Her clothes were burned.

RUBY WESTON, high school senior, Richmond, Kentucky. Lost everything: watch, clothes, luggage, new suit just received as a present, all summer apparel. Ruby showed good school spirit by telling her mother that she would stay even with the inconveniences.

YVONNE PHILLIPS, college

Students weep as they watch their dormitory burning, fearful that all their belongings will go up in smoke.

Many feared all they had would be lost, but were pleasantly surprised to find that their clothes were only smoked and water soaked.

Fire Sweeps Trevecca Cafeteria And Dorm

At noon, February 3, 1954, fire swept through the cafeteria and western portion of McKay Hall at Trevecca Nazarene College. An overheated furnace was the cause. Early estimates placed the loss at $100,000, but due to the fact that the fire department did an unusual job of controlling the fire, those estimates of loss have been revised to approximately $45,000. Dr. Mackey reported that the building was insured for $27,500.

Portions of the building that were not destroyed by fire were badly damaged with water. Several girls lost all personal belongings except the clothes they were wearing. Many feared all they had would be lost, but were pleasantly surprised to find that their clothes were only smoked and water-soaked. (See personal interviews.)

The dormitory is not usable. All girls have been moved to either Hardy Hall, an additional girl's dormitory, and the basement of Tidwell Hall. A few girls are reported to be staying with friends

A Word To The Mothers

As a word to the mothers I would like to take this opportunity to say: Don't worry about your girls. They are being provided for. It has been arranged so that most of the girls are either sharing with girls in Hardy Hall or are living in the basement of Tidwell Hall which the boys moved from to provide room for the girls. It is crowded but we are so thankful that no one was injured seriously and that most of the belongings were gotten out that these present conditions do not disturb us so much. Truly the Lord has been so good to us. We praise His name. The girls and I wish to express our appreciation for the generous gifts and offers we have had from both parents and friends.

Freshman, Chattanooga, Tennessee, and roommate of CHRISTINE CAMPBELL, college Sophomore, Stanton, Virginia, both lost everything due to water and smoke.

PATRICIA OWEN, high school Senior, Nashville, Tennessee, dormitory student. Blouses scorching, not usable. Skirts are possibly not salvagable, according to cleaners. Shoes badly water-soaked. Dress suits were saved. A 1953 Darda (college yearbook) and personal scrapbook were destroyed.

BARBARA ARNOLD, college Freshman, Buchanan, Michigan. Clothes water-soaked. New phonograph received Christmas was damaged. "I feel like a man without a country." Barbara was in noon-day prayer-meeting when the fire was discovered.

DYRIS HOTT, college Freshman, Ridgeway, West Virginia. Lost coat and sweater. All clothes were water-soaked. Most of them are salvagable. Was in noon-day prayer-meeting at time fire broke out. "I thought Dr. Mackey's speech was wonderful, especially when he said that all things work together for good." (Referring to Dr. Mackey's impromptu speech and his reference to Romans 8:28.)

BETTY JEWEL, college Junior, Columbia, Tennessee. All clothes smoked and water-soaked. Her parents heard of fire over radio, drove to Nashville, gathered Betty's clothes, returned home and washed them. Most all the clothes are salvagable.

MATTIE PEARL JONES, college Freshman, Jackson, Mississippi. All clothes water-soaked and faded. Nothing usable. All linens lost except few towels. She was in noon-day prayer-meeting when the fire was discovered. "I never experienced anything like this." Mattie lived in Hardy Hall until two weeks ago when she moved to McKay Hall. Now she is back in Hardy Hall again.

FRANKIE EDWARDS, college Sophomore, Mayfield, Kentucky. Lost nothing but one pair of shoes. A dress and suit were water-soaked.

PEGGY DODD, college Junior, Charleston, West Virginia. Lost few shoes. Clothes water-soaked, but usable. Her college yearbooks were badly soaked. Partial set of silver was not even stained. (This was remarkable since a corner of her room was burned out, including her bed.)

GENEVA FRANZ, college Sophomore, Ashland, Kentucky. All clothes were water-soaked and smoked, but possibly can be used.

MELVINA HARLOW is a college student who reportedly lost every personal item she had in her room. I was unable to talk with her, as she went to her home for the remainder of this week. It was reported she will return Monday.

VIRGINIA MILLER, college Freshman, Moundsville, West Virginia. Lost suitcase, shoes water-soaked, some clothes wet, but in comparatively good condition.

Well that's what the girls lost or salvaged. It could have been much worse. The spirit of the girls and their optimism is wonderful.

New Students

Professor and Mrs. K. W. Phillips were host and hostess to the new students in their home Friday, January 22.

Tea was served from a table decorated with yellow gladiolas and yellow cloth. Charles Cunningham entertained the group with readings and Nettie Belvin and Winifred Halstead furnished music. Everyone enjoyed the evening, getting acquainted with each other.

Science Club Has

Luncheon - Business Meeting

Approximately thirty members of the Science Club met recently in the biology laboratory for a off campus for a few days. Many ministers, doctors, business men, and laymen throughout Middle Tennessee called to offer room, meals, and clothing. It was heartwarming to see this response.

No one was injured seriously, but two boys were cut on the hands when they entered lower floor rooms to save valuables. Two firemen were injured when a hose burst under tremendous pressure, but they remained on duty.

The fire was first discovered in the college cafeteria when someone saw smoke coming from behind curtains on a platform at one end of the dining hall. The stage was directly over the furnace room.

Meals are being served temporarily in the dorm's reception room which is over the kitchen. The kitchen was not damaged.

After the fire was brought under control, Dr. Mackey called an impromptu meeting of the students on the steps of the Administration Building. He told a tearful group of students to "look on the brighter side." Dr. Mackey admonished, "Roman 8:28 is as true today as ever, (choruses of "amen" interrupted him), and all things work together for good."

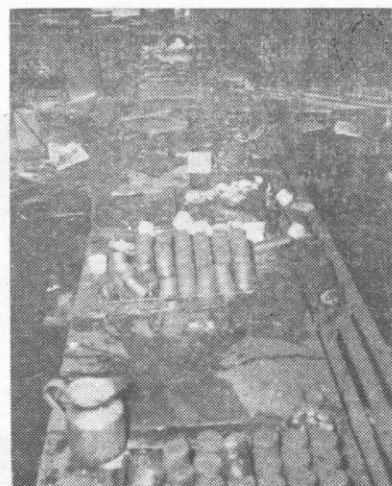

"We must make the tomorrows better than the yesterdays," he continued. "What has happened is God's will and cannot be changed." Following this talk, more than a hundred students sang in chorus the hymn "I know the Lord Will Make a Way For Me."

The first call was reported at 11:59, and an additional call for help was received at 12:08 p.m., according to the fire department. A general alarm was then sounded, to which a number of ambulances responded, fearful that a number of students would be trapped in the building. Radio, and the press responded, and the parents of one student heard the radio announcement, and drove from a distant city even before the fire was under control.

combined luncheon-business meeting.

Chili and a salad were served. After the luncheon a film was shown on blood-donors and stressed the importance of those who are able to give blood to do so.

It was voted by the group to have the blood mobile come to Trevecca some time in March. This is a very worthwhile project and it is urged that all students cooperate in the campaign.

Remains of the serving counter where lunch was to be served. This meal was never served.

PROVIDENCE

Light Shining Out of Darkness

God moves in a mysterious way

His wonders to preform;

He plants his footsteps in the sea,

And rides upon the storm.

Deep in unfathomable mines

Of never-failing skill

He treasures up his bright designs,

And works his sovereign will.

Ye fearful saints, fresh courage take,

The clouds ye so much dread

Are big with mercy, and shall break

In blessings on your head.

Judge not the Lord by feeble sense,

But trust him for his grace:

Behind a frowning providence

He hides a smiling face.

His purposes will ripen fast,

Unfolding every hour;

The bud may have a bitter taste

But sweet will be the flower.

Blind unbelief is sure to err,

And scan his work in vain;

God is his own interpreter

And he will make it plain.

"Robin, will you be my valentine?" said the sparrow as he fluttered to the tower where robin was resting. "I've been hearing so much about Valentine's Day and the banquet! I'd like to go myself at least to sit on the window and watch . . . Robin, I don't know when I have spent such a week around T. N. C.! Tommy McClain sat under a sun lamp while he studied and one whole side of his face turned red . . . just one side now, mind you, and it's peeling off! Even one eye turned red. George Houston and Paul Hendon are wandering around too. They seem to forget what hour they have Materials and Methods and Life of Paul Classes . . . Mrs. Bracken and Professor Phillips guide them along the way . . . Brother Great-house was deep in a class discussion recently on the books of the Bible 'Now students' he declared, 'Over in the New Testament in the book of Jerusalem!' Why Robin, you're laughing . . . I laughed myself and the whole class roared! Charles Cunningham made a speech the other day. When he finished one of his friends rushed up and declared Oh! Charles, your speech was just like mercy!" Charles beamed, feeling complimented.

"What do you mean by that?" he asked. "Well, it endureth forever," rejoined his friend . . . Wyoma Sissom chased Emily Hamilton with a dead mouse in the dorm . . . She ran screaming to her room and locked the door! The dead mouse came sailing through the transom into the room but, since he was dead he didn't devour Emily . . . and she still lives . . . 'Who was Cicero the Great, students?' asked Professor Howick in his philosophy class . . . From the back of the room James Millard answered 'Why, Prof. I think he was a cat!! Frances Foster has trouble keeping up with the Darda Office keys, but she's getting T. N. C.'s yearbook into shape. Keys or no keys . . . Isn't that Fine Arts Building beautiful. I like to look at it from the tower . . . Let's fly over to the roof and listen to the music.

They left me again, those 'birds' with the many 'words,' but they'll be back soon and their talk will fall like a 'shower' on the roof of T. N. C.'s tower!

Classes Begin In Fine Arts Building

Another milestone has been marked at Trevecca, another dream come true. It seemed like a long time but now the Fine Arts Building is almost completely finished.

At the beginning of the second quarter, on January 5, 1954, the practice pianos were in the practice rooms ready for use. The second floor was completely finished and the rest of the building was rapidly being turned over to regular class schedules. Now with a little more work on the first floor, the building will be completely finished. Mrs. Spruill's class in improved reading techniques, Professor Hammond's harmony class and Miss Cooner's speech classes are now meeting regularly in the building.

All of the students and faculty are proud of this new addition to Trevecca's campus. This building is the most beautiful on our campus. We are grateful to the Nazarenes and friends of the Southern Educational Zone for making this building possible. It will be a great asset to Trevecca and will be of value in training young men and women for Christian service.

PERSONNEL SERVICES

Through its counseling program Trevecca is endeavoring to provide general and special services that meet the desires of Christian students for counseling and guidance.

Each freshman receives not only the benefits of group counseling in "Personal Development" groups, but has a designated personal counselor. We are also eager that freshmen and all other students take advantage of our special personnel services.

New students for this quarter are invited to avail themselves of the opportunities provided. The following is an outline guide:

Dean of Students and Director of Counseling ----- K. W. Phillips
Vocational Guidance -----
----- W. H. Howick
Employment Guidance and Veteran's Problems -----
----- V. Neil Richardson
Reading Improvement Service -----
----- Mrs. M. E. Spruill
Speed Disabilities Clinic -----
----- Miss Mable Cooner

Health Guidance -----

----- Mrs. A. K. Bracken
Military Guidance and Recreational Director -----

----- Dr. Homer J. Adams

Social Poise and Problems in Etiquette ----- Mrs. A. B. Mackey

Marriage and Family Counseling -----

Rev. and Mrs. K. W. Phillips

Educational guidance is provided for the most part by the regular administrative staff members —the College Dean, the Registrar, and the divisional chairman. Students will find in our President, Dr. Mackey, a wonderful friend and able counselor on any problem.

Dr. Bracken, Dean of Religion, can make a real contribution to those who seek his guidance in religious problems, minister's problems, and other youth interests.

Never feel that our faculty is too busy to be interested. Our counseling program rests on the principle of the infinite worth of every soul.

Seminary News

Lowell Foster, Student Council President at Trevecca College 1952-53, has been elected president of the Junior Class at our Nazarene Theological Seminary. The Junior Class in the Seminary is made up of first year students, with second and last year students being classified as Middlers and Seniors respectively.

Also appointed to an honorable position is Champ Traylor, who is now a student assistant to Dr. Mendell Taylor.

Another former student made medical history recently. He is Harold Coats, who successfully underwent major surgery for a rheumatic heart condition in October. According to the latest issue of Seminary News, student publication of the Seminary, he was able to attend chapel in November and there testified to God's supreme care.

This year saw a record enrollment of two hundred and forty-five students, with thirty-eight states being represented. Trevecca has twenty-one former students enrolled pursuing graduate work.

In our last article on the Seminary (November 25, 1953) we stated that the student body would be able to move into the new building around January 1, 1954, but due to unforeseen circumstances, the building will not be ready until perhaps next fall.

There is nothing like the locker room after a ball game. The conversations, the back-slaps bring out the inner feelings of all the boys. Believe me, there's never a time when boys are closer than right after the game whether they have won or lost. Memories of the dressing room will live on until whistle of the game of life is blown.

Speaking of locker rooms, there is a sign in the University of Tennessee gym's vestibule (locker room) that made a deep impression. The sign read, "It isn't what you've done in the past but what you can do today."

A newcomer to TNC this year is Betty June Harris, but she is fast making a name for herself as a basketball player. She has led the Freshmen girls to three straight victories and also holds the girls individual scoring record with 27 points.

There is a new men's individual scoring record set by "Big Red" McCue of Belle, West Virginia. McCue scored 28 points in a game against the Upperclassmen. This record should stand longer than the old one which Heaberlin held for one week.

Attendance is on the increase. Team support is helping to make Trevecca basketball games of better quality. The games are not broadcast, so you have no reason for staying at home.

Lions Defeat Eagles 74 to 48

Showing the form of preseason predictions, the Sophomore Lions trounced on the Eagles Wednesday night and moved into a tie for 1st place in the conference.

Records fell as "Big Red" McCue, Lions captain, racked up 28 points to set a new individual scoring record. The Lions total of 74 points was also a team record for one game.

The Sophomores were never behind although they led by only 12 to 9 at the 1st quarter stop. That was the closest the Eagles got. Heaberlin starred for the losers scoring 21 points. Howard Spruill, faking forward of the lions, was impressive scoring 16 points.

McCue was high point man with 28 points. Final Score 74 to 48.

DR. POWERS (cont. from p. 1) sively both at home and abroad. His position requires that he supervise several mission fields in this country and in foreign lands. In the latter part of 1952 he visited England, Portugal, South Africa, the Near East and Italy. While in England he completed important negotiations with the International Holiness Mission of London for union with the Church of the Nazarene. Previous trips have taken Dr. Powers to the Philippines, Japan, Alaska, Central and South America and the West Indies.

We are looking forward to seeing and hearing Dr. Powers who is so well qualified to present these lectures.

The Lions, after dropping their opening game of the season, have gone on a winning spree and Wednesday night's 48 to 47 victory over the tough Hurricanes was their third straight win.

The Sophomores were never behind but were never able to build up a margin of safety and it was a tough fight to the last whistle. First quarter ended 11 to 8 Lions and at the half the Lions were still ahead but by only four points, 25 to 21.

"Big Red" McCue, Sophomore captain, set the pace for his team by scoring 23 points. McCue fouled out early in the fourth period. Wayne Rogers led the losers attack with 22 points. High for the game was McCue's 23. Phillip Rodgers was impressive for the losers with 12 points to his credit.

Greenies Roll Over Eagles 65 to 40

The Freshmen Five took over first place Tuesday night by defeating a slow moving Upperclassmen quintet 65 to 40. The game was played before the largest crowd of the season.

The Green-Wave led by Godby took an early lead and was ahead 14 to 4 at the first quarter stop. Heaberlin of the Eagles scored 9 points in the second period to put his team back in the game.

The Freshmen quintet came back stronger than ever in the second half scoring 41 points in the last two periods. Harold Bible, who has been very impressive in previous games, led the Green-Wave attack with 15 points. Godby played his best game scoring 14 and Heaberlin led the losers with 13 points.
