

VIP'S ARRIVE

The annual VIP Days are here as high school Juniors and Seniors from the Southeast educational zone take part in the Care-A-Van to visit the Trevecca campus. Mr. James Van Hook, Director of Student Recruitment, reports that enthusiasm seems to be high all across the zone and a record attendance is expected.

VIP's from Florida, the longest distance to travel, arrived on campus Wednesday to start the invasion and other districts began arriving today. They will be housed in the various dormitories and in the basement of the gymnasium with members of Civinettes, Civitans, and Circle K serving as hosts and hostesses.

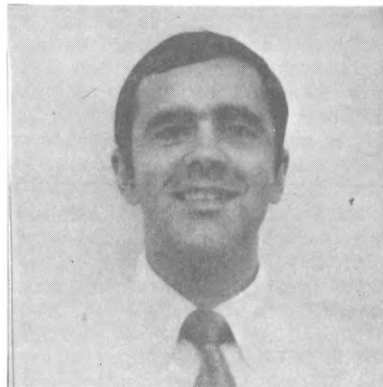

The schedule of activities is full and is designed to give the VIP's a factual, honest look at Trevecca. Today's schedule includes registration from 3:00-6:00 p.m. followed by dinner, a film in McClurkin, the President's welcome, and entertainment by the Encounters. Friday will find them participating in a campus tour, visits to classes of their interest and meetings with Dr. S.P. Parry, Dean of the College; Mr. E. Drell Allen, Director of Admissions and Registrar; Mr. Howard Wall, Director of Student Aid; and Mr. John Donoho, Dean of Student Life.

After lunch they will have an opportunity to meet with the Department Heads of their interest area for a time of questions and answers on their subjects. Friday night (Cont. Page 4, col. 1)

Purple White Game Set!

Friday Oct. 21 at 7:00 p.m. will be the first annual Purple-White game. Last year the event was merely an intersquad scrimmage, but this year, according to Coach Boner, the game will be full length and have all appearances of an official game.

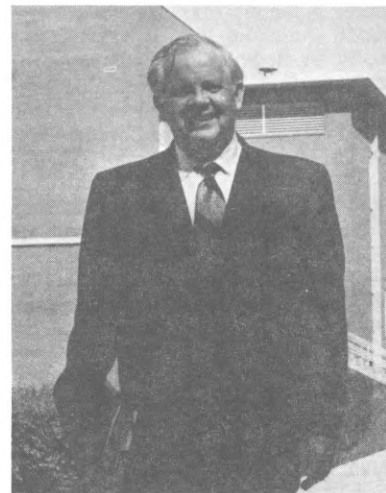

The game will involve members of the Varsity (see page 4), who have been practicing since the beginning of school.

Coach Boner had these things to say about the pre-season practices. "I was most impressed with the attitude of all the boys in the pre-season practice. No matter how much or how hard conditioning got, they all showed a desire to play. I don't think we are on schedule because of the time taken for conditioning but we had to get in shape. Competition has really been good this year with two or three players bidding for each position. All in all the season really looks good."

The newly organized booster club-the T-club will hold its first meeting after the game.

Everyone support the team in this first endeavor of the season. Cost of tickets is only 50¢.

Paul Martin Stirs Reaction

"I Will Serve Him, Because I Love Him", was the theme chorus of our recent revival. Many of our students, for the first time, found themselves serving Him, not out of force of habit, but out of Love.

Paul Martin, outstanding youth evangelist of our church, brought messages to large crowds of students and others in McClurkin auditorium during chapel and evening services.

The first reaction that comes to mind concerning the recent revival is that Paul Martin was wanting us to realize that it is not abnormal to be a Christian. In fact, being a Christian means the opposite-it is the normal; the purpose for which all of mankind was created. (Cont. Page 3, col. 2)

Business Department Announces New Program

By Carolyn Fox

A new internship program has been launched in the Business Department in which a student can get on the job experience in business management and in other areas.

Currently we have one student participating in this program. Gary Holt, a senior majoring in Business Administration, is working at the Atlanta Delta Cooperation in Georgia from October 5 to December 18. He will receive twelve hours undergraduate credit. For his expenses he receives $300 grant-in-aid. Just as in student teaching a professor of the Business Department will travel to the place of work and observe the student in action.

The possibilities of the internship program are being explored. The hope is to extend it to other firms and to make the program available to more students.

Assistantships for professors in the Business Department is another area that is being explored. In this area a student may also get experience in business by helping the professors in lab and class. The possibility for expansion in this program is great.

To help students in business the Associates Capital Cooperation offers a $300 grant for a person with a good scholastic average who is majoring in business administration. The recipient this year is John Teter, a Senior Business major.

STEA Takes Part in Education Convention

On October 9, Trevecca's Student Tennessee Education Association Members had an opportunity to attend the Middle Tennessee Education Association Convention at the Municipal Auditorium here in Nashville.

There were several interesting highlights at this years Convention. First, the S.T.E.A. members had an excellent opportunity to visit many of the booths that displayed a wide variety of educational materials being used today in the different schools. Also the S.T.E.A. members had the opportunity to hear N.B.C. News personality David Brinkley speak to an audience of about 8,000 teachers.

The atmosphere at the Convention was a very exciting one, depicting the excitement and honor associated with the teaching profession.

Trevecca's S.T.E.A. members had an opportunity to attend several educational sessions held in the afternoon. These sessions dealt with specific areas of interest to the professional teacher.

Trevecca was also represented at the Convention by Dr. G.L. Pennington and Mr. Howard Wall, Dr. Pennington and Mr. Wall supervised a display table which contained information about Trevecca's various workshop programs. Those S.T.E.A. members who worked at Trevecca's display table were very impressed with the favorable comments made about Trevecca's faculty and student body.

Curriculum Changes Announced

By David Digby

In keeping pace with the fast moving world of higher education, the Academic Council and Dr. Parry have included some additional changes in the curricula. Two of the most interesting are the new inter-departmental programs available. A student can now receive an A.B. degree in behavioral science and social science.

The major in behavioral science combines the Psychology and Sociological areas of study. This major also requires courses in Anthropology.

The social science degree is a joint offering of the Departments of History - Political Science - Geography; Business - Economics; and Missions - Anthropology - Sociology.

This interdepartmental major is recommended for teachers in junior high and middle high work. These changes make Trevecca an exclusive, for most colleges our size have no such programs. (Cont. Page 3, col. 2)

Encounters Launch New Year!

By Jerome Hancock

The Encounters, Phase II, was launched the week of October 5 amidst a flurry of activity, travel, and singing. Although all systems are not yet musically perfect, the group is gaining velocity with every appearance and the crew is optimistic that they should soon break free from the atmosphere.

Tuesday, October 6, the Encounters traveled to Chattanooga for the Southeast Evangelism Conference. The Lord, the chief commander and Navigator of their activities, blessed in the service that night and all present could witness to his presence.

Returning to the home base, the Encounters premiered at Trevecca in a thirty minute concert in chapel Thursday morning, presenting several selections from the musical "Life". Later that week, the group sang for the Alabama Youth Retreat at Calera, Ala. on Friday and Saturday. The retreat was a great deal of fun and the cold night and the lack of water in the rest rooms seemed to have little effect on the spirit of the week-end.

The Huffman Church of the Nazarene in Birmingham, Ala. celebrated a record attendance Sunday as the size of the congregation and the Encounters equipment literally "packed out" the auditorium. The evening service was a wonderful hour at the Huntsville First Church of the Nazarene which saw several persons at an altar of prayer and included, in the congregation, several T.N.C. students who were most warmly received.

The following weeks will be busy ones for the Encounters. Various concerts in the Nashville area are on the schedule for the immediate future as the group holds a rendezvous at home.

Campus Property Grows With New Acquisitions

By Gordon Bruck

Mr. Ramon G. Richards, Business Manager, reports that the following properties were purchased by the College:

The property at 79 Lester Avenue was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jewell. This property consists of a large apartment building housing four apartments. This is adjacent to property already owned by the college.

The property at 501 Lester Avenue, formerly owned by the Ray Davis family, is also adjacent to present College property. This consists of a large apartment building with three units and a two bedroom cottage located on the back of the lot. Mr. Richards further stated that improvements, including grass seeding, will be made to the Davis property upon its being vacated on or before December 18, 1970. "It is hoped," he said, "to have the renovated buildings ready for use as apartments by winter quarter."

One large house with five apartments and a duplex with two apartments, located at 511 and 513 Lester Avenue have also been acquired. This formerly belonged to the W.D. Phelps family and gives the College seven more apartments.

The acquisition of the above has provided much needed relief in housing for men students. At present there are four men living at 79 Lester Avenue, four at 511 Lester Avenue and six at 75 Lester Avenue in an apartment already owned by the College. An additional eight men are in the basement of Smith Hall, which is on the campus proper.

President Mark R. Moore reports that architectural plans for the previously reported fortyeight unit apartment complex are nearing completion. They should be submitted to the general contractor within thirty days by John A. Preston and Associates, Architects of Nashville. Announcement will be made as soon as bids are let. This complex will be constructed along Hart Street on the four and one half acres west of McKay and Smith Halls.

YOU The "Plus Factor"

T.N.C. is often referred to as "The Something Extra College." Much is said about the "extras" that she has to offer a student. Location, activities, curriculum and faculty are all listed as "extras" in one way or another, along with the opportunity to study and learn in an environment conducive to a Christian life. The many opportunities to actively be involved in outreach for souls and service to mankind help to round out the extras.

With all of these extras, however, T.N.C. would serve no purpose or be of any value without the "plus factor" --- YOU! Without T.N.C. would be a society of professors sitting in empty classrooms and accomplishing nothing. Without you Trevecca would be just a collection of empty buildings serving no purpose except to cover portions of the land. Without you she would no longer be able to send preachers, missionaries, and musicians into full-time church work. She would no longer send out teachers, business people, and even house wives who were dedicated to being a witness for Christ in their part of society.

Yes, you can be the "plus" that allows Trevecca to continue fulfilling her goal of service to mankind, but only if you want to. The sad part is that some people will go through four years of college and never be touched or get involved in what goes on around them. If one is to be a vital part of the World after graduation he should start by getting involved in the smaller world of campus life, rather than just occupy dorm and classroom space.

Become a part of the campus life and allow the "extras" Trevecca provides to make a difference in your life. Only when you allow this to happen can Trevecca have any impact in the World, for you and your life are the only way she can get off the hill and into life at large. Become a "plus factor" and let your life start to count now.

LETTERS To The EDITOR

AN OPEN LETTER TO COLLEGE STUDENTS FROM U.S. CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION
WASHINGTON, D.C.

Some of you may recall that I wrote an open letter last summer. Because many of you now reading this letter were not in school this past summer, I want now to convey my thoughts to you again. My letter comes from a desire to insure a continued high quality in the Federal work force.

Many high school students will be going to college and upon graduation from college will seek employment in State, city and Federal governments as well as in private industry. We want people who are physically and mentally able to hold jobs no matter what sector they choose and to be the caliber of individual who would be an asset to any employer.

Fifteen years ago, I would not have written this kind of letter. I say this not only because this problem did not exist then, but also because the college generation of fifteen years ago did not appear to share to the same degree an immediate, personal concern for the welfare of his fellow-man that today's college student feels. I am writing this open letter to you because I am very much concerned about the persistent growth of illicit drug traffic among our high school students and I am convinced that today's college student can be the key in putting an end to the lure of drug use.

College students have always been looked up to by their younger companions in high school. You set the pace in fashion, in music, and more importantly, in ideas for the entire teen-age community.

It is with this thought in mind that I urgently encourage you to carry the truth about the effects of drugs back to the high school students in your home communities and in the community where you now live. Yours is a voice that will be listened to. Your message about what you have seen and about what you know of the eroding effects of drugs can be the single most effective deterrent to drug experimentation among our high school students.

This is an effort you can undertake on your own initiative. All that is needed is your own desire to help protect our high school students from the damaging effects of drugs which you have seen or know about.

I must say here that I am always heartened by the creative energy and determination which our American college students have shown in their efforts to make this country better for us all.

I will not recount the effects of amphetamines, barbiturates, narcotics and other dangerous drugs. You know them as well as I do. Any additional facts you may want to have in adding to your own knowledge of the effects of drugs you can get from the several excellent pamphlets are not readily available locally, you may request them from the Public Information Branch of the National Institute of Mental Health, Chevy Chase, Maryland 20203.

So it is my earnest hope that you will go out of your way to talk with high school students about this. Talk to individuals and groups as opportunities arise. Seek out youth recreation associations and urge the director to get the facts to the young people.

This is one area where I know and you know that you will be listened to. It is an area where you as an individual can do so much to save our high school students from the bitter experiences which so often result from drug use. Please try this approach, and when you do, I would appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

Nicholas J. Oganovic
Executive Director

The Library Committee wants to publically express its appreciation to Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Mackey for their contribution to the library facilities in the form of the carpet and furniture for the new reading area in the periodical room on the second floor. Christianity and Astrology

Dr. H. Ray Dunning

One of the outstanding symptoms of the spiritual sickness of our time is the massive interest in astrology. Magazine racks contain many copies of publications which cast horoscopes, newspapers publish daily columns, and apparently intelligent and well-to-do people follow intently their "signs." Astrology should be distinguished from astronomy. The latter is a legitimate science, the former is a pseudo-science which professes that a man's destiny is somehow determined by the stars. Being a very ancient "art," astrology probably roots in the pre-scientific view prominent among the ancients that the planets were deities or else the dwelling place of the gods. But modern scientific knowledge and recent space explorations in particular have demonstrated this to be a mere fiction. The interesting thing is that so many people, while otherwise living in the 20th century could actually convince themselves that in some fashion, these heavenly bodies of inert material could affect their personality and daily fortunes.

The answer, I say, is that 20th century scientific man is spiritually ill. This reaching for something dependable reflects the insecurity and uncertainty which marks the times. Men are cast adrift with nothing stable upon which to build their lives. If they can feel that beyond them there is a power exercising some control, it solves their uneasiness about the obvious lack of purpose in their lives. In sum, the preoccupation with astrology reflects modern man's loss of faith in the living God who acts in History and exercises providential control of the affairs of men.

What shall we as Christians say to this strange phenomenon? Perhaps, we should first know the emptiness of astrology's claim. St. Augustine, in the 4th - 5th centuries, encountered the same problem in a personal way. As he sought for peace in his own heart, he turned for a time to the astrologers. But his mind was too keen to be deceived for long. He soon put their claims to a logical test and found instances of persons born under the same star, in totally contrary circumstances, whose lives took diametrically opposite directions. The clincher, for him, was Esau and Jacob in the Bible. Twins they were, and the astrologer must assert the same destiny for both, but the facts did not bear it out.

As Christians, we believe that there is only one star that will affect the destiny of men. The outcome of every man's life is the way he relates himself to the one who is called the Bright and Morning Star.

Astrology stands opposed to the Christian doctrine of creation for it substitutes worship of the creation instead of the Creator. It also subverts the Christian doctrine of providence by substituting governance by blind fate for faith in the personal activity of God.

A modern song that has apparently enjoyed considerable popularity builds upon this pseudo-science. "When the moon is in the seventh power, and Jupiter aligns with Mars, ...It is the dawning of the age of Aquarius." Pace - dependent upon the correlations of constellations? Never! The Christian believes there is only one star that gives protents of peace and that is the one that shone above a Manger in Bethlehem many years ago.

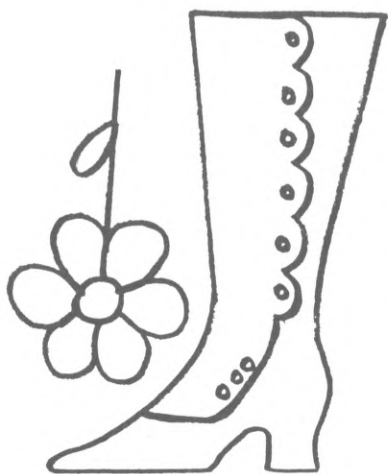

Like most of the modern peace movements, this song looks in the wrong place and reflects a naive view of human nature. Peace among men can never become a stable reality until men have been changed within. This is the realistic view of the Christian faith. This is the answer of Christianity to the insecurity, loss of meaning and desire for peace so prevalent in this "advanced" era.

Concerning the affairs of men, the Christian still agrees with Daniel's words to the King, "The secret about which your majesty inquires no wise man, exorcist, magician, or diviner can disclose to you. But there is in heaven a God who reveals secrets." (Dan. 2:27, NER)

Separates How to Wear Them

By Pam Johnson

By now you probably have looked over the title of this article and are wondering what are separates. The fashion term for this is: A skirt with matching blouse or sweater.

Since winter is approaching we find the temperature is dropping and by now most of us have pulled all our winter things out. As we decide which skirt or blouse is "IN" for this year, here are some helpful hints for you when planning the winter wardrobe.

Any type wool or bonded skirt is permissible but a cotton skirt is not suitable to wear for the cold weather. There are many variations of designs for skirts; plaid, check, stripe, or a solid color, all look smart with some type of sweater. In the sweater department, you also find many designs such as pull overs, "V" or turtle neck sweater and many cardigan tops. The main point in matching your skirt with a top is making sure your colors do not contrast or the effect will be clashing.

Tunics are the latest things out for this year and the crochet sweater vests can go with any type skirt or top as long as the color is plain. The other latest design out on the market is the one piece jump suit which is like a turtle neck but extends all the way to your feet. Adding a skirt to this would complete your outfit, having the stockings matching the top.

When wearing winter separates always remember to have good taste in clothes, for no matter how cold the weather is nothing could warm you better than the satisfaction of being well dressed.
NOTE: IF ANY GIRL OR BOY HAS A FASHION QUESTION PLEASE WRITE TO PAM JOHNSON, GEORGIA HALL, BOX 155.

CURRICULUM CHANGES...

In the Business department, a minor is now offered in Accounting. The minor carries 2 hours, some of which may be taken in Business Law.

The Seniors have two new regulations to remember. No Senior may receive credit for a 100 level course this year. Underclassmen should plan their schedules to allow for this. The other item is that the Senior Seminar has been dropped. Officially it still lies with the decision of the departmental head but it is no longer a requirement for graduation.

These changes show that the college is constantly searching for new ways to better its academic world. For more information check with Dr. Parry or your department head.

He was saying that God is a part of life. He is not some abstract and distant being who wants to force His way into the lives of young people. Rather, He is the One who desires to be a part of us and to help us live life to its fullest now! In other words, eternal life begins now when we allow Him to be a part of our lives. Jesus said it when He exclaimed, "...I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." (John 10:10b)

The overall response on campus seemed to be one of honesty and eagerness at finding the kind of real life that Christ gives so freely. For those who still have not found it, we say, continue searching! Jesus also said, "And you will know the truth and the truth will set you free!" (John 8:32-J. B. Phillips).

The Council Column

The Student Council has met several times already this year to discuss a number of matters. Perhaps the most important of these matters was concerning revisions of the Associated Student Body Constitution. A constitutional revisions committee was appointed this past summer to review the constitution and to make revisions as needed. Their proposals were then presented to the Student Council upon the arrival of all council members for fall quarter. These revisions were approved by the Council and were then sent on to the Administrative for approval. Once the revisions are approved by the Administrative Council, they will be presented to the Student for final approval.

Other activities of the Student Council thus far include sponsorship of several Freshman Orientation activities, selection of a Student Council Chapel chairman (Lawrence Golden), and the presentation of the Vogues Concert.

A high point for the Student Council, along with other student leaders, was Trevecca's first leadership retreat. This retreat, attended by students, faculty, and administrators, helped to draw three groups together and make clear the hopes and goals of the Student Government for the 1970-71 school year.

Weekly Student Council meetings are scheduled for Wednesdays at 9:45 a.m. in McM 107. Everyone who would like to is invited to attend, so they may learn more about their student government and take an active interest in it.

It really makes a difference when it comes to being just a paid member instead of an active member."
