A Cross-Centered Year

The sands of 1961 have started pouring. Steadily and surely the minutes and days tick away, never to return. What does 1961 hold for you? When all the sand of 1961 has run out, will it have been a Cross-centered year for you? Let Christ be behind every action, every motive. Every minute must count for Christ. May the love of Christ and the message of the Cross permeate your life. "I shall pass through this world but once. Any good therefore that I can do or any kindness that I can show to any human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again." When the hourglass is tipped again it will be another year. The sands of time do not run backward. Make 1961 count for Christ by living a Cross-centered life.

Students Teach In Local Schools

Twenty-one Trevecca students have participated in the student teaching program this year. These students spent approximately half a day every day in one of the local schools.

Those teaching in various high schools are: Joe Moses, Melvin Welch, William Young, Bess Kirby, Phyllis Lobb, Ruby Jones, Ruth

Shannon, Joe Adkisson, Orval Le Jeune, and Jimmy Allen.

Elementary school student teachers are: Oren Frazier, Mildred McDowell, Edith Mingledorff, Phyllis Sark, Charlene Ragsdale, Karen Cox, Theresa Gunter, and Martha Gray.

Judy Magnusson, Thomas Reid, and Ruth Six have taught in the Trevecca Demonstration School.

Students who desire to participate in this program may get their application from Professor Howick's office in the Administration Building.

New Students Enroll For Winter Term

Dennis Trailer Destroyed By Fire

On Thursday morning, January 12, a fire demolished the trailer belonging to Darrell Dennis and family. It was caused by an electrical wall outlet. Darrell was able to get his wife and three children (ages four, one and a half, and three weeks) to the neighbors' house. On returning he found the trailer in flames and could not save much. Firemen worked for an hour putting out the fire. Part of the structure was still standing although the inside was completely burned out.

The student body and faculty of Trevecca presented the Dennises with an offering to help replace some of the possessions lost in the fire.

Mrs. West Is President Of Student Wives

The Student Wives Organization has Miss Amy Person as its sponsor. This year the presiding officers are: Mrs. Eddie West, president; Mrs. Jack Hinton, vice-president; Mrs. Raymond Hassinger, secretary, and Mrs. Gerald Woods, treasurer.

On the first Monday evening of each month the regular meeting is in the College Hill cottage. On each third Monday evening one of the members of the faculty women's group entertains the student wives in her home. To show their appreciation the ladies of the organization give an annual tea for the faculty women in the spring.

Husbands are invited on special occasions, such as the Valentine social.

A very important part of the work of the organization is the study course. This year a course in counseling is being presented by a different faculty member each month.

Each member contributes to the group throughout the quarter. This is done either through one of the functioning committees or by helping to serve refreshments at a regular meeting. There is a baby sitter for all of the children of the wives who attend the meetings.

The student wives who are not attending the meetings are invited to come. The officers may be contacted for information.

Roy Miller Dies In Kansas City

Roy Miller passed away Friday, January 6, 1961, at the Veterans Hospital in Kansas City, Missouri. Roy was graduated from Trevecca in 1959. He would have been twenty-five on February 2. While here in school he was pastor of a church and worked at the Y. M. C. A. Well-loved by all, Roy was very active in school, being president of his class in both his sophomore and junior years. He was attending our Nazarene Theological Seminary when admitted to the hospital.

On January 10, funeral services were conducted in Kansas City, and on January 12 prayer services were held in Livingston, Tennessee, where he was buried. Roy's wife, Edith, is residing in Livingston.

Hardy Hall Girls Contribute To Missionaries

The girls of Hardy Hall experienced an extra Christmas blessing by giving instead of receiving. It was the unanimous wish of the girls to contribute fifty cents each for the missionaries in place of exchanging gifts.

An eight-pound uncooked ham was taken to Rev. and Mrs. John Hall, and also to Rev. and Mrs. John McKay who were in Chattanooga for the holidays. Plans are being made to send a five-pound canned ham to Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Spencer, to Rev. and Mrs. Reginald Jones, and to Rev. and Mrs. Paul Hetrick. The hams have been purchased and will soon be packaged and on their way to South Africa.

This is the second missionary project that Hardy Hall has undertaken. Several boxes of needed things have been sent to the Spencers in South Africa.

The Hardy Hall girls are very happy with their active missionary chapter and its leaders. All support this organization through prayer, fasting, and giving.

Congratulations

Congratulations are extended to Professor and Mrs. William Jernigan on the birth of their daughter, Julie Annette Jernigan, on November 24, 1960.

Ministry, Teaching Are Future Plans

Seven new students have enrolled this quarter. They are: Mrs. Mary Lou Bjorklund, John Hansen, Arthur Hembree, Marian Lorange, Howard Melton, Billy Mixon, and Jacqueline Sommer.

Mrs. Bjorklund, of Nashville, plans to become an elementary school teacher. She is interested in church work.

John Hansen and Arthur Hembree are studying for the ministry. John is from Willow Springs, Missouri, and Arthur is from Cookeville, Tennessee.

Marian Lorange lives in Nashville and is studying for a career in elementary teaching. Her interests are music and hair styling.

Mr. Howard Melton, from Arcadia, Florida, is preparing for the ministry. He is the father of Dale Melton, Student Council secretary.

Bill Mixon, from Macon, Georgia, plans to become a song evangelist. His main interests lie in artistic work, but he also enjoys sports.

Jacqueline Sommer, from Detroit, Michigan, feels the call to become a medical missionary. She plans to enter nurse's training next fall in Detroit. She enjoys reading, sewing, and cooking, and takes an active part in various types of church work.

Dr. Mackey Attends Kansas City Meeting

Dr. A. B. Mackey left Trevecca campus January 4 to attend three days of meetings in Kansas City. He met with other college presidents in sessions with the Department of Education and the Department of Evangelism to plan further activities for the new year.

Resolutions For 1961

To begin my new year right, I have made a resolution, not only to myself, but, most important, to God. I have promised to read my Bible regularly and get alone with God more often. I know that this is necessary, and I plan to keep this resolution always.

My second resolution is to eat a good breakfast every morning, in order to keep in good health, which is important if I am to be at my best for God.

Another resolution is that I get enough sleep.

My next resolution is regarding school work. I am going to try to get my lessons daily and keep up in all of my assignments. I want to make better grades this quarter than I did last quarter.

For a fifth resolution, I want to become more informed about our missionaries and our missionary work. I also want to be alert to witness for God wherever I am, and to be a better soul-winner this year.

Sixth and last, I am going to try to keep up my correspondence with my best friends better than I did last year.

I have made these resolutions, not to break, but to keep, in order that my life will be more pleasing in God's sight and more interesting than ever before.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was written for the communication class. The following are some of the other resolutions submitted by the class.)

I resolve to: stay active in the Christian Workers Association, testify more, smile more and be more friendly, listen attentively to my teachers and professors, get outside reading in early, eat three well-balanced meals a day, budget my time and money sensibly, write at least one letter a week to my parents, get organized, study in the day and sleep at night, keep the rules, be on time and maybe early, keep my room neater, not borrow my roommates' belongings, lose weight, obey my alarm clock, not get serious enough with a girl to be led into matrimony, and to keep my New Year's Resolutions.

Unlimited Resources

Many students have come to T. N. C. on little or nothing more than faith. But . . . "by faith Abel . . . by faith Enoch . . . by faith Noah . . . by faith Abraham . . . through faith also Sara . . . by faith Isaac . . . by faith Jacob . . . by faith Joseph . . . by faith Moses . . ." and on to the present day, saints have stepped out on faith. God met the needs of these saints, and He is still meeting the needs of His children. He has limitless resources. He holds the future in His hands. Christ said, "For your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

Dorm Counselors
Are Ready To Help

How many times have you heard it said, "Take all that is coming to you"? Some people actually try to take everything they think is coming to them while others do not take advantage of many worthwhile opportunities. Your dorm counselors stand ready to assist you in every possible way to make your college adjustment easier and to help you have a more pleasant dormitory life.

The counselors in each dormitory were not chosen just because someone has to hold that title. They were chosen because they have adapted themselves to college life successfully and are qualified to help others.

Why not take advantage of your opportunity and visit your counse-

"Lord, Make Me . . ."

Lord, make me an instrument of Thy peace.
 Where there is hate, may I bring love;
 Where offense, may I bring pardon;
 May I bring union in place of discord;
 Truth, replacing error;
 Faith, where once there was doubt;
 Hope, for despair;
 Light, where was darkness.
 Joy to replace sadness.
 Make me not to so crave to be loved as to love.
 Help me to learn that in giving I may receive;
 In forgetting self, I may find life eternal.
 —St. Francis of Assisi

lors if you have a problem? If they cannot help you, then any member of the faculty or your head residents will gladly be of service to you.

President Is Inaugurated

On January 20, the thoughts of American citizens turned toward Washington, D. C. — the nation's capital city. At this time the new president of the United States was inaugurated.

Early that day at the United States Capitol Mr. Kennedy took the oath of office administered by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The president then proceeded down Pennsylvania Avenue, the route of the famous parade, to the presidential stand where he and his family viewed the rest of the parade. The inaugural parade was a gala event with every state represented by an elaborately decorated float. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and government officials, including cabinet members, were also in the parade.

Following the lengthy parade, there was the Inaugural Ball where the First Lady made her grand appearance. This concluded the activities of the day, and the President took his place as head of the United States.

The Burden

By Lucy Rider Meyer

"O God," I cried, "Why may I not forget?"

These halt and hurt of life's hard battle

Throng me yet.

Am I their keeper? Only I?

To hear

This constant burden of their grief and care?

Why must I suffer for other's sins?
 Would God my eyes had never opened been!"

And the Thorn-crowned and Patient One

Replied, "They thronged Me too:
 I, too, have seen."

"Thy other children go at will,"
 I said,

Protesting still.

"They go, unheeding. But these sick and sad,

These blind and orphan, yea, and those that sin

Drag at my heart. For them I serve and groan.

Why is it? Let me rest, Lord.

I have tried—

He turned and looked at me:

"But I have died."

"But, Lord, this ceaseless travail of my soul!

This stress! This often fruitless toil

These souls to win!

They are not mine. I brought not forth this host

Of needy creatures, struggling, tempest-tossed—

They are not mine."

He looked at them — the look of One Divine:

He turned and looked at me, "But they are Mine."

"O God," I said, "at last I understand.

Forgive! and henceforth I will bond slave be

To Thy least, weakest, vilest one:
 I would no more be free."

He smiled and said, "It is to me."

CHAPEL BELLS

The revival emphasis was outstanding during the first week of chapel services this quarter. On Wednesday, January 4, President A. B. Mackey presented the first chapel message of the winter quarter.

On the following day, Dean Leon Chambers spoke on "A Changeless Christ in a Changing World," using Hebrews 13:8 as his text.

The A Cappella Choir sang on Friday, and Rev. Forrest McCullough, evangelist, selected as his subject "Revival or Evangelism First?" The students gathered for prayer around the altar at the close of the service.

The chapel service on January 9 was marked by a sweeping revival. After many student testimonies the congregation sang "Sweeping This Way," and many sought spiritual help at the altar.

Immunization Is Important

Have you been immunized? It is important that you take this precaution as soon as possible if you have not done so. Miss Margaret Leidigh, R. N., our school nurse, emphasizes the necessity of immediate injections for polio and influenza.

If it has been a year since you have had your series of polio injections, you need a fourth. If you have failed to take your third injection, you can take it now. If you have not taken any of the three injections, Miss Leidigh urges you to come immediately to the dispensary and begin your series. You need the first one immediately, the second one in two weeks, and the third one in seven months. Every year you need two influenza injections two weeks apart.

Polio vaccinations are fifty cents for each injection. Influenza injections are seventy-five cents each. You can be immunized at a small cost.

Prayer

By Richard Chenerix Trench

Lord, what a change within us one short hour

Spent in Thy presence will prevail to make!

What heavy burdens from our bosoms take,

What parched grounds refresh as with a shower.

We kneel, and all around us seems to lower;

We rise, and all, the distant and the near,

Stand forth in sunny outline brave and clear.

We kneel, how weak! We rise, how full of power!

Why, therefore, should we do ourselves this wrong,

Or others, that we are not always strong.

That we are ever overborne with care,

That we should ever weak or heartless be,

Anxious or troubled, when with us is prayer,

And joy and strength and courage are with Thee!

C.W.A. REPORTS

By MARTHA GRAY

During the last chapel service of the fall quarter Professor K. W. Phillips, sponsor of the Christian Workers Association, presented to the student body a program of "Christmas Evangelism." Students were given tracts about Christmas, and other more general tracts were made available at the post office. By the last day of examinations, 7,000 tracts had been taken from the post office in addition to those given out in chapel.

It was certainly wonderful to hear reports of God's blessings upon the students and faculty as they told of witnessing with the aid of these tracts. Our prayer is that these tracts will be read again and again, and passed along to friends until hundreds will be reached through this endeavor.

The C.W.A. is looking forward to a new quarter with faith that God's blessings will continue to be upon the work. At the first regular prayer meeting of the quarter new captains and co-captains were elected. These have accepted a responsibility that can only be fulfilled if they have the prayers of the students and faculty members of Trevecca. Let us each back them with our prayers and support throughout the winter quarter. Those elected are:

Friday Evening Street Service

Captains: LeRoy Davis, Barbara Medina; co-captains: Gene Wiseman, Joyce Palmer.

Saturday Evening Street Service

Captains: Keith Silvernail, Brenda Gould; co-captains: Roy Ragsdale, Charlene Ragsdale.

City Workhouse

Captains: LeRoy Davis, Esther Blume; co-captains: Harold Furniss, Sue Beeler.

County Workhouse

Captains: Bill Nichols, Ida Vaughn; co-captains: Bob Cook, LaNelle Cowan.

County Jail

Captains: Douglas Askew, Yvonne Johnson; co-captains: Lloyd Allison, Ellen Gregory.

Juvenile Court

Captains: Albert Truesdale, Mary Alice McGill; co-captains: Ken Heaton, Arline Phillips.

Agee Nursing Home

Captains: Walter White, Charlotte Porter; co-captains: Philip Neeley, Patsy Wood.

Grace Nursing Home

Captains: Jesse Sims, Winifred Davidson; co-captains: Don Reeves, Miriam Goodwin.

General Hospital

Colored Department
 Captains: Barrie Bracken, Margaret Leidigh; co-captains: Jim McWhorter, Martha Young.

General Hospital

White Department
 Captains: Billy Beasley, Evelyn Loyd; co-captains: Howard Melton, Altha Meighan.

City Jail

Captain: Bob Chasen; co-captain: Don Henderson.

Campus Cacophony

By MARITA SLIFER and
JOY NELL WARHURST

It's a new year; the old year's activities are back in the pages of history. With the new year come new opportunities, anticipations, hopes, plans, resolutions. Let us look into the future and reach for greater achievements than were accomplished in the previous year.

Registration day brought us several new students this quarter. We want to extend a warm welcome to each of them.

Did we hear right? Ed LeJeune, Everett Higginbotham, and Larry Kolar have the same New Year's resolution. That is to keep the "up" position in Miss Person's world lit class!

Beverly Donegan is becoming quite the modern co-ed — owning a brand new set of push buttons.

What's this we hear about people sliding around on orange peelings in Smith Hall?

Oops! Watch out — here comes Kenneth Hemmerly in those dashing red and black socks.

Have you ever heard of a whole animal being frozen — and alive at that? If you don't believe us, ask the girls from Gibbs Hall.

The football banquet was a great success, and everyone was well entertained. Pat Mercer even persuaded Carolyn Moore to put off her lessons long enough to attend.

There are many different ways to arrange and clean dorm rooms. However, Linda Fleshman and Marilyn Lillard seem to be the most original.

They say time flies, but not two certain days we experienced last month. Those exam days seemed to have everyone in a state of shock — except for our usual groups of "two's" on campus; for instance, Dave and Brenda, Melvin and Joyce, Barbara and Buddy, Judy and Vernon, Bud and Ida, Linda and Dwayne, David and Jeannie, Byron and Jenny. Some people aren't affected by anything, not even our quarterly brainwashing.

Until our next chat — au revoir! (Wonder if Ed Allred could translate that?)

Program Notes

On January 7 the Science Club showed a film entitled "Our Mr. Sun," which gave facts that scientists have learned about the sun. Following the film the Sophomore Class gave a party in the Student Center. Fifty students were present and enjoyed an hour of entertainment. Refreshments were served.

The Clio Society presented an inspiring film about the life of Martin Luther on Friday, January 13.

A film entitled "The Thread of Life" was presented by the Science Club on January 14.

The Enchanted Loom

Patterns are being woven every moment of every day by an intricate "loom." Everyone possesses this enchanted loom—better known as the human mind.

The weaver (you) determines the type and quality of thread to be used in weaving a product (thought). Colors used by the weaver may be dull or bright—depending upon attitudes and moods. Of course, bright-colored threads are much more desirable than dull, drab threads. Yet, a weaver does not use all frivolous colors lest his weaving become monotonous. Subdued colors are intertwined with the bright to make properly blended products. Could this thought be applied to daily conversations?

Thinking upon light subjects most of the time makes for a dull personality.

This human mind is truly an enchanting subject. Within this "loom" are interesting structures vital to weaving intelligent thoughts.

In order to weave constructive thought the mind must be disciplined and guided in this direction. Many times the "enchanted loom" is not used to full capacity.

College students are especially aware of using the mind. Now is the time to weave the threads of basic knowledge on this loom. It is subject to many influences. Only the pure and worthwhile threads should be used by these minds.

The best pattern to follow is that of the Divine Weaver.

Good Etiquette Is Appreciated

Etiquette is more than keeping rules. Etiquette is a spirit. It is a conception of the general fitness of things. The person who practices Christian etiquette makes a conscious effort to make life brighter for others.

Every Christian young person has an obligation to God to develop the potentiality which he has been given. For many young people this includes an education in a Christian college. Our abilities can either be spent or invested. It is impossible to avoid matters of Christian etiquette and still get the most from college life.

Dinner table rules are followed to make meal time more enjoyable. It is hard to excuse bad table manners, because it is so easy to have good ones. The important points can be given in these three rules: Be tidy in your eating, handle your implements in the most conventional way, and avoid any act that might be disagreeable to others.

Proper clothing should be worn. According to Emily Post, a girl always wears a hat to church on Sunday morning. However, women in extreme and obnoxious hats can detract from the effectiveness of the worship service. Hats should be worn that suit the size and shape of the face. The colors you wear should not only harmonize with each other, but also with your own coloring. The hat must be appropriate to the season, occasion, and articles worn together.

Our chapel service may be considered as a Sunday service in one of the churches. It gives us an opportunity to go to church and worship God for an hour each day. Our conduct in chapel should follow the same rules as those in regular church services. We should be reverent, enter into the singing and listen attentively. Whispering, giggling, and scribbling notes during the service are out of place. When the congregation has finished singing, wait until after the prayer to slip the song book quietly and unobtrusively into its proper place. While care of one's person is an important matter, it is not to be attended to in the presence of others. Cleaning, filing, and clipping finger nails are to be done privately. Chewing gum is a lot of fun, but it has its proper time and place to be enjoyed. This relaxation is not suitable for classes or chapel. After the benediction has been pronounced, you may pick up your books and put on your coats.

Culture and refinement are becoming to a Christian. A Christian is to be considerate and thoughtful of other people in all that he may do or say.

To Thee, Lord

I came, at ending of the day
Into Thy Presence
And there—
I laid the stress and cares
Of the day at Thy Feet.
Weary with much toiling
I bowed before Thee—
And gave thanks for
Sustaining grace and love
That Thou didst
Permit me to know.
I was weary—
And needed Thy touch
In this Thy day.
Then Thou reached
Into the vast expanse of Your grace
And drew out
A soothing portion—
The balm in Gilead—
And bathed my weary soul,
—Filling my heart
With peace and rest—
Love and adoration—
—And determination!
Determination to begin again
Tomorrow
With Thy Grace.

Trevecca Nomenclature By CHARLOTTE PORTER

Along with those people who delight in reading want ads belong those who enjoy devouring the chapel list. After a browse down the lines of names, the curious mind begins to wonder if Miss Corn has been introduced to Mr. Cobb, or what would happen if Miss Wood, Miss Frame and Mr. Silvernail ever met at the same time. The hungry person finds comfort as he reads Appleby, Baker, Campbell, Cook, Frye, Golden, and Browne. If the Messrs. and Misses Shearrer, Skinner, Thrasher, and Tanner ever held a grudge against the same person—woe! If you are a Goodman and Workman then surely you will be a Wiseman someday. However, if you Dolittle, change Quick! Poole, Wells, and Waterman should click, and no doubt Mr. Cowan likes Miss Hay. Is Dollar so much better than Farthing, or Holsinger than Hassinger, or Gardener than Baumgardener? Let's have a day of introductions and see that the Butler, Porter, and Houseman get on the job in the Hall. Tiemann?

Juniors Sponsor TWIRP Week

There is an annual occurrence on Trevecca campus which some find upsetting and many enjoy immensely. For five days girls act contrary to the usual order by performing all the little acts of courtesy which gentlemen are accustomed to performing. They even go so far as to make appointments with these gentlemen for social engagements, and pay for dinners, etc. Hence, the name TWIRP, (The Woman Is Requested to Pay).

Oddly enough, rather than being frowned upon for their disturbing behavior, these girls are actually encouraged in this by a supposedly sober and responsible Junior Class. The fellows, far from being alarmed at this state of affairs, actually seem to condone it.

This event is occurring during the week of January 23-27.

Definition Of A Brother

By NANCY LEIGH

Pockets full of marbles,
Shoes full of sand,
A handsome model airplane
Inside a grubby hand;

Hair that's neatly parted—
An ear on either side;
Little feet with shoes
That are nearly always untied.

Eyes that shine so brightly
(When it's time to go to bed);
Thoughts that drift so smoothly
Through a happy, tousled head.

Cowboy guns and holsters,
Flannel shirts and jeans;
Tomahawk and arrows,
Sacks of jelly beans.

Scattered through the living room
Are all these things of his.
But we don't mind at all, because
That's what a brother is.

YOUR Ad
Could Have Been Here!

You Tell On Yourself

You tell what you are by the friends you seek,
By the very manner in which you speak,
By the way you employ your leisure time,
By the use you make of dollar and dime.

You tell what you are by the things you wear,
By the spirit in which you your burdens bear,
By the kind of things at which you laugh,
By the records you play on the phonograph.

You tell what you are by the way you walk,
By the things of which you delight to talk,
By the manner in which you bear defeat,
By so simple a thing as how you eat.

By the books you choose for the well-filled shelf;
In these ways and more, you tell on yourself.
So there's really no particle of sense
In any effort at false pretense.

The basketball season is now in swing again at Trevecca. It looks like it is going to be a good season for all teams.

The first practice games were played on January 7 at the Salvation Army gymnasium. The games for both boys and girls will be on Saturday mornings.

The Beta Society is overflowing with girl players this year. In fact, the Betas have so many that the Deltas are left without enough players. There has been some recruiting for the Delta team. All girls interested in playing basketball or supporting a team are asked to join the Deltas.

With the enthusiasm that is being shown, the season is going to be a good one.

Betas Capture First Basketball Tilt From Deltas, 50-38

The on-rushing Betas downed the Deltas in the first game of the basketball season by a score of 50-38. The Betas took command of the game from the start. Even though they trailed the entire game, the Delta spirit was not broken as they kept fighting to gain the lead.

Two Beta men scored in the double figures. Roger Costa and Duane Houston had 14 points each. Don Irwin starred defensively, pulling down 12 rebounds and blocking 6 shots.

Top scorer for the Deltas was Wade Westbrook with 10 points. Captain Byron Dollar, who played an excellent defensive game, grabbing 10 rebounds, and Charles Kirby were right behind with 9 each.

Half-time score was Betas 31, Deltas 16.

New Equipment Purchased By TAA

The Trevecca Athletic Association is now in the process of decorating and replenishing its office, which is located in the Administration building on the third floor, Room 300.

New curtains, lamp, and typewriter have been purchased by the TAA. New basketballs, referee shirts, a first aid kit, and other essentials are putting the TAA well on its way to being a better association.

In the very near future, possibly within the next month, a system will be worked out for keeping up with all equipment. When anyone uses the equipment it must be signed out before it leaves the TAA office. This equipment is very expensive and should be handled with care.

Girls Basketball

By MARY HELEN LANE

The girls' first basketball game got under way Saturday, January 14, with the Beta girls defeating the Alphas 43-24. The beginning line-up was as follows:

Beta

F Mary Jane Still
F Donna Cornelius
F Sharon Carter
G Pamela Thomas
G Sharron Norrick
G Chiquita Russell

Alpha

F Carol Light
F Ray Kohser
F Karen Cox
G Nancy Swafford
G Sharon Sigler
G Mickey McMeans

Substitutes were Roberta Thomas, Carol Young, Rena Huggins and Sharron Marlin for the Beta team, and Barbara Williams and Judy Fortenberry for the Alpha team.

The Beta team started with good passing from each member of the team. By half-time the score was 16-6 in favor of the Betas. Mary Jane Still and Sharon Carter did a good job for the Betas point-wise, scoring 16 and 9 points respectively. Pamela Thomas was outstanding on defense. Carol Light led the Alphas with 16 points.

The Alpha team seemed to be trying a little too hard. An injured ankle for Mickey McMeans and a bruised toe for Karen Cox certainly did not help them any.

Cooperation Is Necessary

In the body tissues are groups of like cells that work together in a common function. In fact, throughout the body we find that different small parts have to work together to make the others perform their function.

Roommates will not be able to get along unless they understand each other, are able to sit down and talk things over, and in every way be considerate of the other persons in the room and dormitory.

Cooperation is very important from the members that make up a class. Have you been working with your class, giving ideas, paying dues? It is the duty of the students to contribute to college life by cooperating.

Students should work together, as the parts of our body must to run smoothly, to do better scholastically, socially and spiritually.

FIND YOUR CHURCH

Sundays seem to be the loneliest days, especially for "newcomers." Do you think about your home church—the same familiar faces—your Sunday School class—long time friends? The best solution to this problem is to get settled in a "church home" while away from your "home church." There are many places waiting to be filled by young people who are willing to contribute to the services. Do not hesitate to make your choice. You need a church and the church needs you.

You will receive many blessings and be a blessing by your faithful contribution to the church of your choice.
