In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

REVELATION 22:2

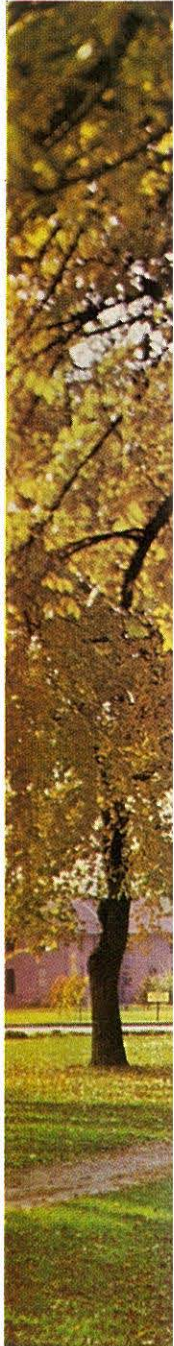

In the rush and pressure of academic life, a student often longs to lose himself in the density of a forest retreat. There, in quiet solitude, he might pause to think and meditate.

What in this forest inspires him to examine and question his existence? Perhaps it is the trees. Perhaps it is that their life drama resembles his own college life.

That tall, weathered, yet sturdy oak resembles a professor in whose face the student finds mature wisdom, integrity, and understanding. That young, green, swaying fir—with branches extending upwards and outwards, as if groping for the light—could be a student in search of knowledge. All these trees breathe the same air, root in the same earth, and drink of the same water. They have a common source of life.

So this student and his colleagues also have a common source of life, for they are planted in the soil of knowledge and learning. Through the wisdom offered by professors and books their roots are deeply grounded. Flowing through their bodies is the Water of Life, found in Christ. It is this Water which stimulates them to do God's work. And only through the Living Water can the student thrive.

The pages of this book serve as a "cross section" of a tree of life, your tree. As you read, may you—as did the blind man—look "up and see men as trees, walking." (MATTHEW 8:24)

Dedication

To You, the Pastors and Churches of the Northwest Educational Zone:

The existence of N.N.C. today is largely due to the continual support you, the pastors and laymen on the home-front, have given our college in its forty-eight years of service. Your support, through faithful prayer and sacrificial giving, has meant the fulfillment of dreams of progress.

The majority of us, the students of N.N.C., can point to you as being directly responsible for leading us to Christ and later to N.N.C. Your consistent Christian lives have provided us a "soil" fertile for growth and have influenced us to seek Christ's will for our lives. The "transplantation" to a college campus thus seemed a natural step in spiritual growth. For this rich heritage we will eternally be grateful.

Yes, each of you is a vital part in the existence of our college. Your rewards for such service and sacrifice will not be found in any financial remuneration, but in the caliber of young people N.N.C. produces and in the contributions we, in turn, make for Christ and His Kingdom.

To you we gratefully dedicate this 1961 Oasis.

In Memoriam

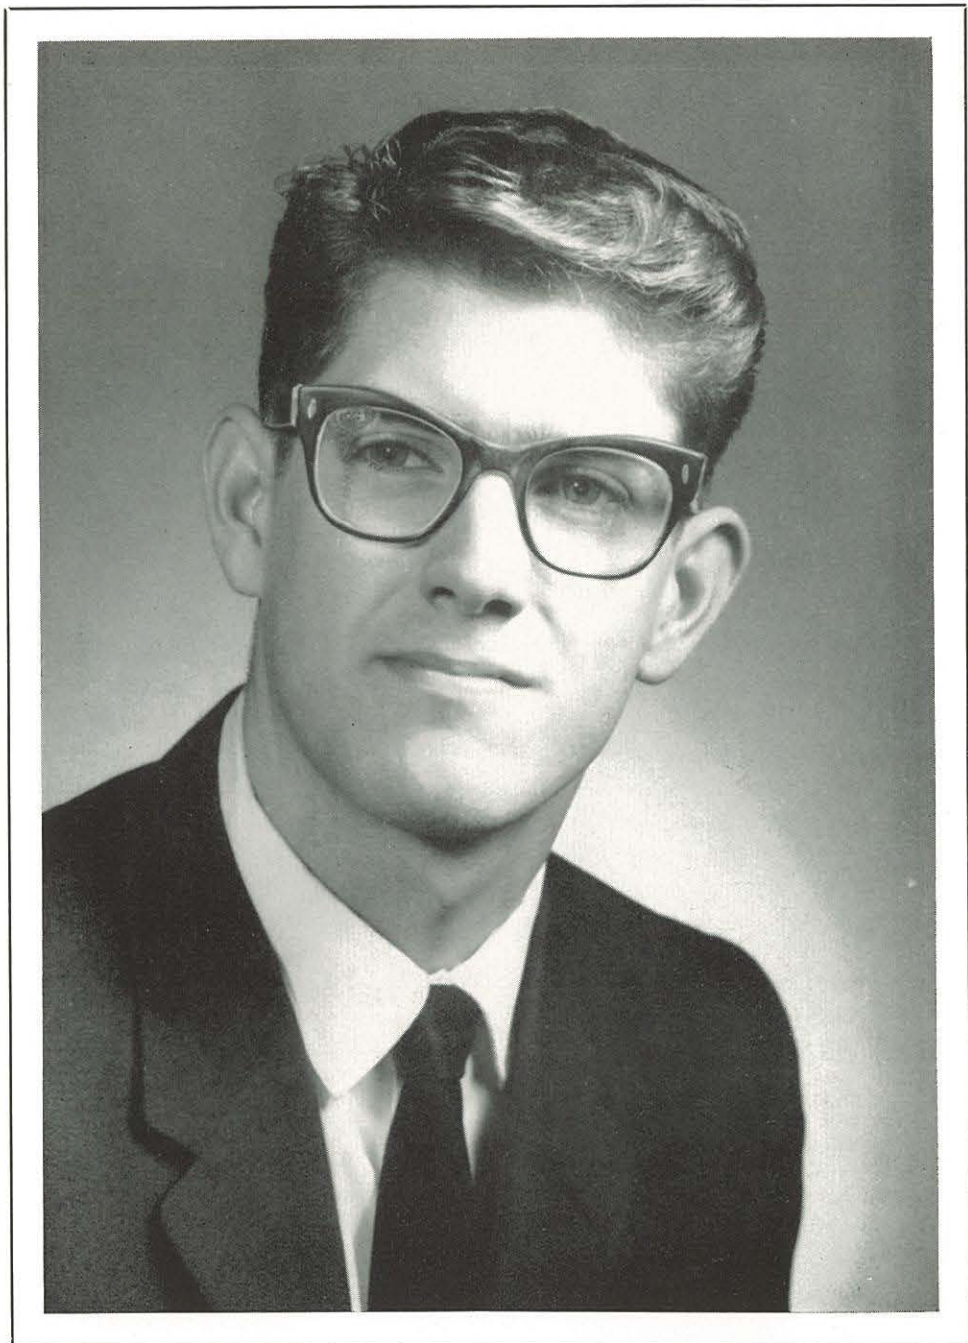

The dark-haired youth is gone. His blithe step, his wholesome demeanor, his cheery smile and greeting are now but a rewarding memory. As he faced life expectant, clear-eyed and full of faith, so he faced death.

Dennis Butchart's testimony was one of enthusiasm blended with devotion. His complete commitment to Christ is evidenced in two excerpts from his personal diary, which read: "I have experienced the meaning of death to self and of complete dedication to God. For the first time in my life I have been led into the Holy of Holies, where God's presence is more real than anything in this world. It has lost all appeal—money means nothing to me now. Trivial conversations seem pointless and empty. At last I know what it means to pray without ceasing as every breath becomes a prayer." And again: "Isn't the way of holiness beautiful? It must be that many grow cold because they do not progress in the way of holiness."

Professors found him easy to counsel because he was sincere in his search of truth. Fellow students found him trustworthy because he lived up to the truth he found.

In a few brief months he endeared himself to us all. As we look into the sunset, we can say with him,

. . . Let us die working
Still tackling plans unfinished, work undone,
Clean to the end, swift may my race be run.
No laggard steps, no faltering, no shirking;
Let me die working.

Dennis Marshall Butchart . . . born March 28, 1941 . . . Portland, Oregon . . . died August 5, 1960 . . . consistent life . . . radiant testimony . . . untold influence.

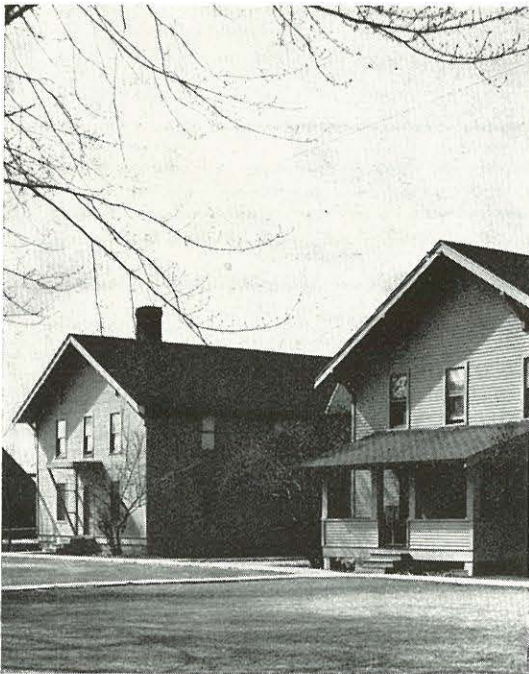

Campus Buildings

Administration Building

Fine Arts Building

The buildings of our campus are more than mortar and brick, for they represent experiences of growth in every phase of college life. There are memories of sleepless nights cramming in the dorm, hours of research in the library, and of the variety of melodious tones drifting from the Fine Arts building. Above all, within these buildings we have met the One whose Spirit pervades the campus and our individual lives.

The foreground shows a curved path or road leading towards the building, flanked by trees and landscaping. The overall scene is a well-maintained campus environment.

PRESIDENT RILEY

The Board of Regents is composed of ministerial and lay members from our school zone. OUR PRESIDENT

DR. JOHN E. RILEY

A Word from the President

Students of N.N.C.—Past, Present, Future:

I extend to you warm greetings and best wishes. As N.N.C. approaches her golden anniversary year in 1962-63, I become more conscious of the lengthening years of my identification with her. For nearly seventeen years now I have had the joy of being part of this campus; that is more than one-third of N.N.C.'s history. During that time more than two-thirds of her students have passed through these halls, more than two-thirds of her graduates have received their degrees. How rich are the memories of those years! How humble one feels not to have accomplished more!

Here within these pages something of another year has been captured. May this book be a treasure of memory to those who spent these months on the campus. May it be a talisman to recall the wonderful days of the yesteryears to those who were students here aforetime. And to students yet to matriculate here, may it be a promise of experiences of study and romance, self-fulfillment, hopes and dreams, of finding and doing the will of God.

For N.N.C. has a big and growing future. And those who catch the vision in her halls shall serve the Master throughout the ends of the earth and shall grow in the House of the Lord forever.

Seated around the table are: Helen Wilson, Dr. Mayfield, chairman, Warnie Tippitt, and Elmore Vail

The four members of the Personnel Committee have as their responsibility the consideration of the problems which confront students here at N.N.C. They study and discuss the activities which will contribute to better relations on our campus. Represented on the committee are the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, the Director of Intramural Activities, and the Vice-President of the College.

Personnel Committee

Academic Council

The Academic Council with Dr. Culver serving as chairman is represented by the heads of the divisions, the Registrar, the chairman of the Lower Division, the Librarian, and Mrs. McMichael, secretary. This council considers the academic activities of N.N.C. It studies matters pertaining to registration, instruction, curriculum, and any exemptions from academic requirements.

Discussing academic problems are Percival Wesche, Eric Jorden, Marian Washburn, Mallalieu Wilson, Wanda McMichael, Thelma Culver, Bernard Seaman, Gilbert Ford, Edith Lancaster, Double E Hill, and Marvin Byers.

Student

RALPH NEIL, President—" . . . and gladly would he smile."

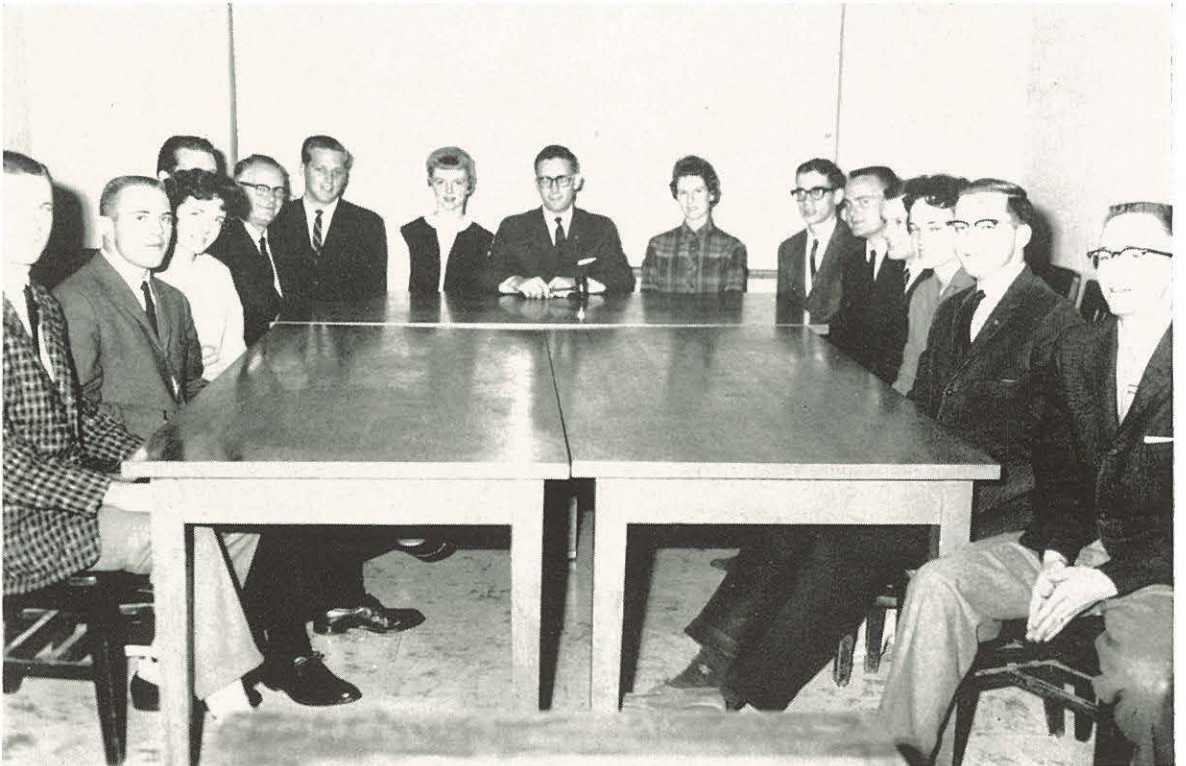

Government

Heading the student government are Wes Aman, Sgt. at arms; Joyce Oldenkamp, vice-president; Careta Hammond, secretary; and Gordon Olsen, treasurer.

Deciding on business which pertains to the student body, the student council has been an important factor in campus life. The members of the council attempt to guide and direct the student body in a way that will benefit everyone in his spiritual, social and academic life.

Meeting in the library seminar room are the student council members: W. Aman, D. Jennings, K. Santo, L. Seaman, Dr. Mayfield, G. Olsen, J. Oldenkamp, R. Neil, C. Hammond, R. Lindley, P. Murphy, E. Kissling, L. Riley, R. Benner, J. Dirkse.

"Here's fifty dittos to be ready at 10:30!" The duplicating staff, Carla Harris, Deon Curfman, Jane Witte, and Haroldine Yancey, never have a dull moment.

"Do you want this applied to your bill?" is the often asked question in the Business office. Seen here are Beryl Hostetter, Evelyn Johnson and Mrs. Edna Lubiens.

Assistant business manager, Mr. Harper—the complaint department.

Staff

"A janitor's job is never done," Daryl Reisch, Guy Wright, and Henry Tromburg all agree.

"Yes, all the mail is out!" Beth Schwabauer or Kathy Schroeder repeat for the one-hundredth time.

As secretary to both Dr. Mayfield and Mr. Johnson, Joanna Maier wears out many shoes running back and forth between the two offices.

and Personnel

As Dr. Riley's secretary, Mrs. Helen Hill has only rare moments of leisure. The Florence Nightingale of N.N.C. is Emily Baker, who does double-duty as a student and a nurse.

Dr. Bob Mangum gets acquainted with N.N.C.'s students as they appear at the clinic downtown.

Working with Dr. Mangum to distribute pills is Dr. Henry Wesche.

Classes

Heading the senior class was Sharadan Lisk, president.

Seniors

"Survival of the fittest" would be an apt motto for the Senior class. It is the final test in collegiate life. Practice teaching, the Student Preaching Mission, and senior seminars all provided opportunities for the students to apply their learning. Finally making the last hurdle of senior comprehensives, the senior class enjoyed investiture, Junior-Senior Banquet, and the last sentimental days of graduation.

Baccalaureate and Commencement

Culminating the activities of four years of academic life, commencement and graduation symbolize a "dream come true" to each graduating senior. The last chapel service, Baccalaureate, and finally the graduation exercises will long be remembered. All the struggle and strife are worth that moment when each senior marches across the platform, receives his diploma, and becomes an Alumnus of N.N.C.

Ushering the graduates in are Lynn Riley and Glen Slemmer—top in the Junior Class.

Juniors

An active and fruitful year describes that of the Junior class. These students, like the frosh, had many new experiences. They felt the burden of upper division courses, and met the responsibility of planning the Junior-Senior banquet.

Despite the hard work and added responsibility, the Juniors had their "fun times," too—there were the annual Junior-Senior scavenger hunt (which the Juniors won), Junior-Senior Banquet, and the class meetings in which everyone quite actively participated.

Presiding over these meetings, and directing all the Junior class "activities," was Neil McKay, President.

Sophomores

Back again for another year, the sophomores, guided by Don Sauer, started the year out by initiating the "lowly" frosh.

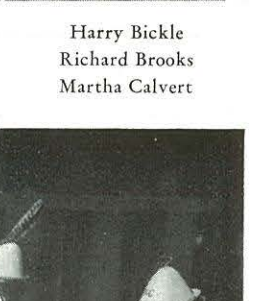

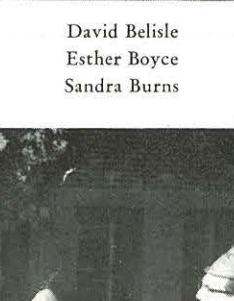

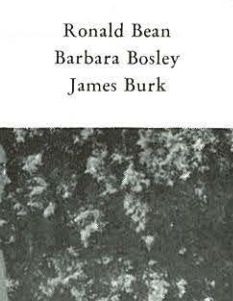

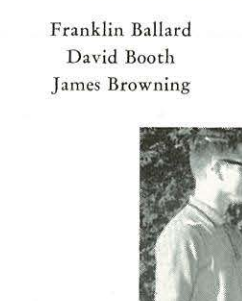

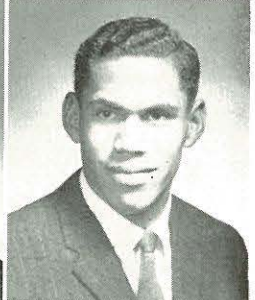

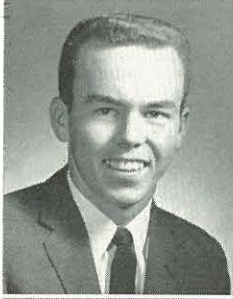

They sponsored a Blazer Day when sophomores first wore their new class blazers. The Sophomore comprehensives managed to humble some of these college "veterans."

Rowdy and ready, the sophomore class contributed much to the zest of campus life.

MEREDITH MORTIMER, President

Freshmen

Sparked with enthusiasm and talent, this year's freshman class has successfully completed a year of college growth.

Their spirit was first challenged during Freshman Initiation Week. Each frosh was required to wear the traditional green "beanie," learn a poem, and obey all upper classmen. With the annual flag hunt between the Freshman and Sophomore classes the activities of the week ended.

Under the leadership of Meredith Mortimer, class president, the class of '64 was very active. Their first major project was an all-school "Happy Birthday Columbus" party.

The freshmen got together with the sophomores at the Frosh-Soph picnic in the spring.

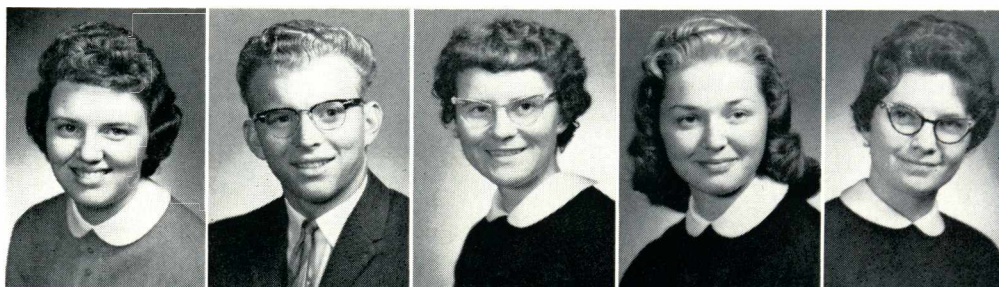

As these beginning days of college have multiplied into the weeks and months of their first college year, these freshmen have begun to lay the foundation stones of their tomorrows.

Seated—Ray Lindley, Student Council Rep.; Lois Robinson, Secretary. Standing—Earl Hunter, Chaplain; Galen Olsen, Vice-President; Ken Watson, Treasurer.

Homecoming

"Golden Memories" was an appropriate title for the 1960-61 Homecoming activities. Nostalgic thoughts of former Homecomings filled the minds of the visiting alumni as they watched the ceremony and game. "N" Club president, John Wright, presented Queen Careta with the royal crown and robe, signifying her reign over the Homecoming activities.

The evening was climaxed by a reception held in honor of the Queen, her court, the alumni, and the victorious N.N.C. Crusaders.

King & Queen of Hearts

"How do I love thee?" was the theme at the King and Queen of Hearts Banquet. Reigning over this affair were Queen Joyce Oldenkamp and King Rich Williamson. Their court included senior princess and prince, Jan Moore and Dave Jennings; juniors, Naomi Shawen and Jerry Van Order; sophomores, Karen Kerch and Gordon Lindbloom; and freshmen, Joyce Gammill and Gary Locke.

Galen Olsen, "master of ceremonies," along with a background of organ music by Jerry Nelson created a dreamy atmosphere.

Thanksgiving Banquet

Too busy talking to eat are those at the head table.

Following the traditions of a family dinner at the Thanksgiving holiday, N.N.C.'s students and guests joined as a family for the Thanksgiving Banquet. Depicting this holiday spirit, the theme for this year's banquet was "For all of these and countless good, let us give thanks."

With the help of her council, A.W.S. president, Lynn Riley, planned this memorable hour.

Not hampered by being the main attractions, the students have no trouble "gobbling" their turkey.

The Robe

For the first time, this year all six societies combined their efforts in presenting "The Robe," a religious drama depicting the aftermath of the crucifixion in the life of a Roman soldier, Marcellus Gallio.

The play was presented November 18, 19, and 24 before capacity crowds. Having divided the duties involved in such a production, the six directors successfully staged the most ambitious dramatic production ever seen on N.N.C.'s campus.

Library

The R. T. Williams Library is a popular retreat for many students. Whether they are there to study, browse, or to read the latest newspaper the library plays a part in the development and growth of a student's college life.

Miss Edith Lancaster and Miss Helen Rambo are the librarians and head the staff of student helpers.

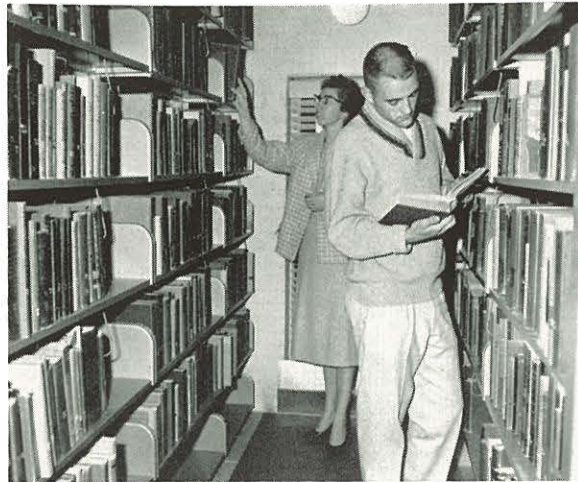

A unique extra of the N.N.C. library is the familiar bust of Abe Lincoln with which the students have made friends this year.

Waiting to check out our books is the library staff. Row one—K. Von Hoene, A. Wilson, J. Wilson, R. Shepped, B. Sumrall, B. Finn, J. DeWard, B. Von Hoene, J. English, M. Rinker, S. Hampton. Row two—C. Cook, D. Rodeen, D. Rinker, E. Baptiste, C. Eby, C. Falk.

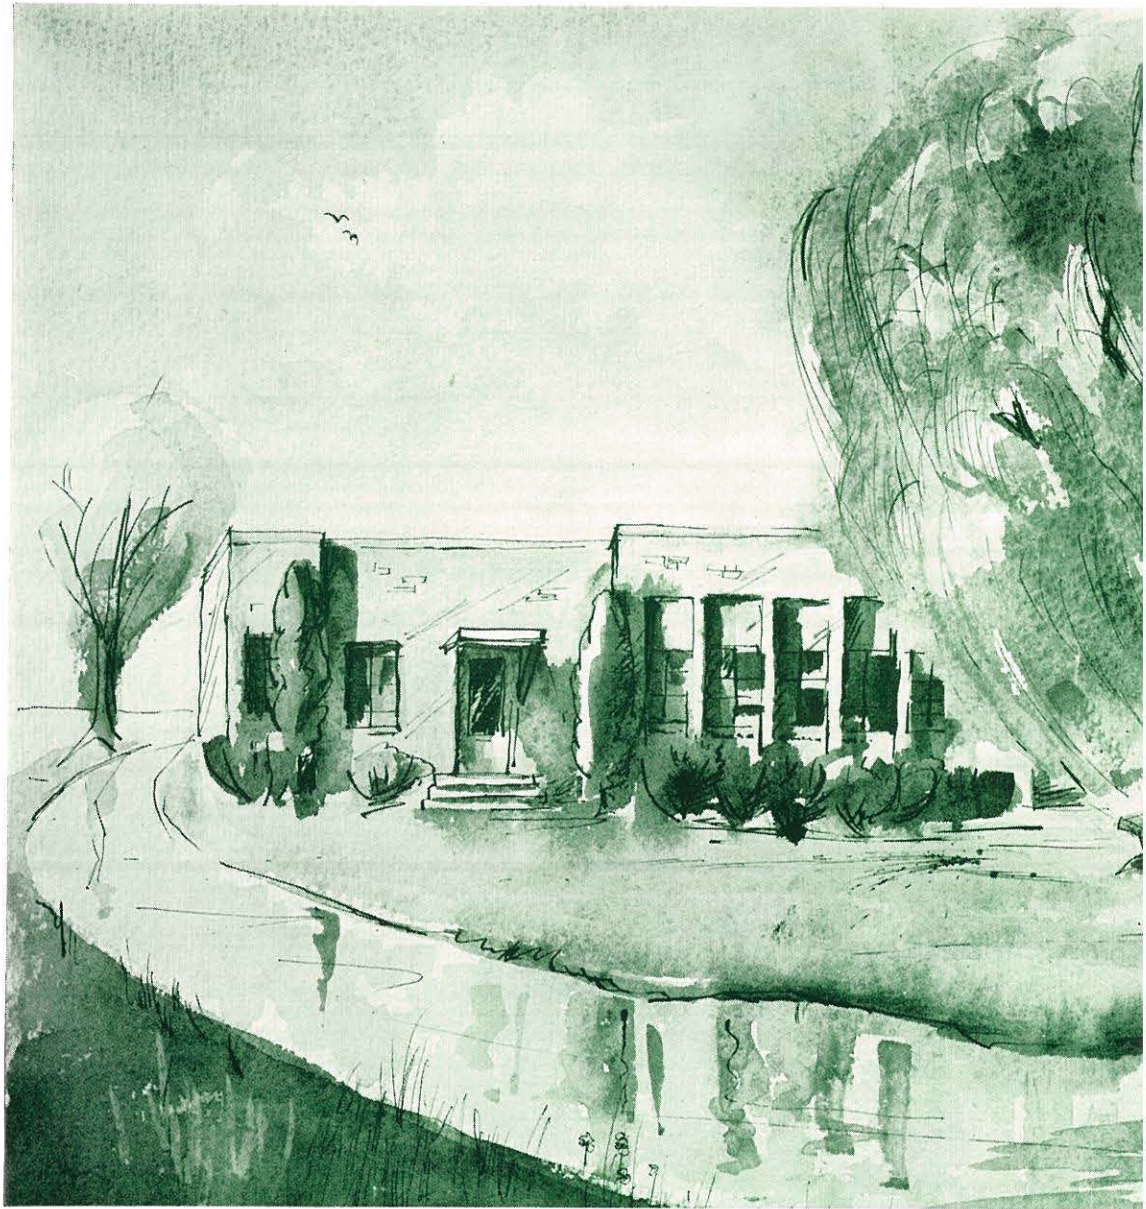

The periodical room is an interesting place to pick up those magazine reports.

Our library "stacks" provide us with books ranging from Theology to Homemaking.

Students busily studying, reading or searching for books keep the library a hub of activity.

ETHEL STOVER, Dorm President

As with all new things, Dooley Hall holds for its residents a special charm. But its newness has not kept out the "homey" atmosphere typical of the dorm mother, Mrs. Volk.

Dorm meetings and parties, birthday celebrations, all-night study sessions, exercises in the parlor, prayer meetings, and private devotions fill the hours of each coed's dorm life.

Grouped in front of the fireplace are dorm council members Barbara Keel; June Venable; Lois Gardner; Naomi Shawen, Treasurer; Jo Horne, Secretary; Ethel Stover, President; Glenys Haven; Karalee Miller; and Kathie Santo.

Chapman Hall

Being the only men's residence, Chapman Hall plays an important part in the lives of N.N.C. students. Under its roof, the boys enjoyed wrestling matches in the game room, "jazz sessions" in some rooms, bull sessions in others, prayer meetings in the chapel, and scheduled conferences in the head resident's apartment.

Laurie Seaman's ability as head resident to cope with situations in every phase of dorm life has won the trust and admiration of all the fellows.

The year 1960-61 has brought many new experiences to the freshman women in Mangum Hall. They have encountered a new kind of culture: varied classes, endless hours of fellowship, and quiet times of spiritual strength.

Novices in collegiate life, the girls have met many problems of adjustment. Larry and Darlene Clark, head residents were always willing to advise and encourage the girls.

LOIS GARDNER
Head Resident and President

Probably no other dorm on campus will hold as many memories for its occupants as does Morrison Hall for the few girls who lived there. Having to share the limelight with her new next-door neighbor Dooley, Morrison worked hard to mix studying and pleasure—to achieve that “family air.”

Since many of the girls were new this year, “Mom” Gardner had her job all lined out—to be an example of Christian life at N.N.C. She served a dual job of president and resident, winning respect from “her girls.”

Home Management House

"Practical experience for future living" can well be the theme for the Home Management House. Here, home economics students get the feel of putting into practice the theories they have been given in class. They work together on planning and preparing meals, keeping a budget, and general house work.

Under Mrs. Howe's able guidance, the girls learned not only domestic skills, but also found help from her constant, radiant life.

Alpha Delta Phi

Although the Alpha Delta Phi's didn't finish among the top societies in total points they did capture the Sportsmanship Trophy. This was accomplished by spirited participation in the intramural activities throughout the year. Active in the sports and music department, A.D.P.'s placed first and second in the men's tennis doubles and received first place in both the men's and the women's ensemble contests. With a slight improvement over last year, the faithful A.D.P.'s now hope to make tremendous gains next year.

Individualism is an important emphasis of the Athenian society, as was seen in their participation in individual intramural activities.

Though the Athenians did not win the loving cup, they placed second in the literary division. True to optimistic Athenian outlook, they expect a bright future next year.

Spartans

Not to be outdone by the other societies, the Spartans also captured a first place in the literary division.

The enthusiastic participation of the members enabled them to be among the top 50 per cent in participation in activities during the year. Some of these activities were Closed Night, in which they took second place, the Halloween party, and speech and music contests.

The mighty Olympians did it! They won the coveted faculty loving cup first semester. Finishing first in men's and women's team sports and individual sports, they were never seriously challenged for first place. Carrying the same enthusiastic teamwork spirit from first semester into second, the Olys again displayed their talents. This enthusiasm was seen at the closing of each meeting—all voices were raised loud and clear for the victory yell, Red, an' White fight! fight!

Sigma Lambda Alpha

It seemed the S.L.A.'s could never quite come out on top, placing second in most of the intramural activities. Despite this disappointment, the S.L.A.'s were sparked with enthusiasm and good participation. Because of their excellent performance, a large share of the all-star teams were composed of S.L.A.'s. The society began the second semester with renewed vigor.

Rising from the cellar, the L.S.P.'s won honors in intramural activities, including first place in the men's vocal solo contest and second place in sportsmanship.

Although placing several members on the all-star teams, the society remained in sixth position for total athletic points. With enthusiasm and participation by each member, the L.S.P.'s plan to soon vacate the cellar position.

Men's Club

At its name suggests, Men's Club is an organization devoted to activities involving just "the boys." The first major event of the year was Stag Night which climaxed the beard-growing contest. Other activities of Stag Night were the loudest sweater contest, boxing and wrestling exhibitions, comedy acts, and a basketball tournament between the dorm wings and the off-campus men.

As their yearly project, the Men's Club chose to build a new backstop for the baseball diamond. They also participated in the Homecoming activities.

Faculty femmes as well as students participate in creating better teacher and student relationships. Sponsoring the group are Mrs. Riley, wife of our President; Mrs. Howe; and Miss Wilson.

"What happened to the Crusader Choir write-up? . . . Is there more copy paper? . . . Jerry, Miss Washburn won't let that go through!" These are a few of the exclamations overheard in the Oasis office the night before a deadline. Working furiously, all pitched in to produce the 1960-61 Oasis.

Incorporating the theme into the book's contents, arranging picture assignments, and delivering copy to the printer kept Editor Jerry on the go both semesters. However, he was very ably assisted by Lois Young and Ginger McKenna, who quite often shared the "late hour," last minute work on deadlines.

KROK

Owned and operated by the Associated Students, KROK has made many improvements during the past year. The radio station now has stereo, a new console, two new automatic volume controls, and two new transmitters. A direct line to the Bean and the chapel have been installed so that the chapel programs can be broadcast and music can be played.

KROK broadcasts approximately nine hours a day. The programs include campus news and sports, sacred recordings, Showers of Blessings, and popular music.

Directing KROK operations were Dave Jennings, station manager, and Virgil Vail, sponsor.

Treble Choir

Deftly blending a variety of voices, Mrs. Deloris Waller directed the Treble Choir in its many programs. Singing on television, in local churches, and joining with the Male Chorus in the Christmas concert, the choir had an active year.

Believing the saying, "All work and no play makes Susie a dull girl," the girls enjoyed informal parties after several of their performances.

Male Chorus

MARVIN BLOOMQUIST
Director

The male chorus of basses, tenors, baritones, and monotones inspired many listeners in their robust singing. Presenting concerts of sacred and secular music, the men sang in College Church, community churches, on television and in chapel programs.

In typical choir tradition the Male Chorus also went on tour. Fellowship at after concert festivities along with the active singing schedule provided a profitable year for the fellows.

Crusader Choir

Presenting the spirit of N.N.C. and Christ in song—the Crusader Choir again made an outstanding contribution to campus life. The choir, directed by Warnie Tippitt, had an active year singing at College Church, presenting musical programs at school and local churches, and touring the Northwest in the spring.

A major project of the 1959-60 choir was the presentation of "Songs of the Season." The climax of the year was the tour through the zone and the midwest en route to the General Assembly in Kansas City. Singing nightly, pulling pranks, and mixing with the public the choir spread the spirit of N.N.C. across the country.

Traveling Groups

Two musical groups, The King's Heralds and the Silvertones, represented N.N.C. last summer by singing in churches, youth institutes, and camp meetings on the Northwest Education Zone.

The first activity of both groups was to attend the General Assembly in Kansas City with the choir. The groups traveled from early June until September, covering approximately 14,000 miles and sang in eight states.

The groups presented N.N.C. to the churches and passed out prospective student cards. Approximately $15,000 was received in pledges and cash for the support of the new science building. Traveling with groups were Mr. Marvin Sporleder, Development Representative, and Dave and Gina Mattson.

Circle K

Accepting the challenge to service, the Circle K club, sponsored by the local chapter of Kiwanis, has done much to improve our campus.

In the words of president Rich Benner the main project was "to install a parking lot." General cleaning of the campus, ushering at Civic Music programs and missionary chapels, and upholding their reputation of being "collegiate," have been but a few of their services. On the lighter side, the men enjoyed an annual banquet in the spring. Their advisor is Dr. Ford.

This was the first year that N.N.C. Young Republicans have been officially organized due to the leadership of Phil Ness, president. It is hoped that in the future all intelligent students will join America's party for peace and economy.

Crusaders Break Losing Streak

Locke Dumps in Almost Half of NNC Points

By GIL CRAKER
The Northwest Nazarene College Crusaders, playing their first team ball of the season, were beset by bad passes and fumbles, went down to their first straight defeat and their second straight at the hands of the College of Idaho Coyotes Tuesday, 91-73.

THE CRUSADERS jumped off to a quick 2-0 lead on a jump shot by Larry Willcuts, but C of I then took a 6-2 lead and were never trailing again. Large, highly partisan crowd as on hand for the game at Central Auditorium here.

C of I held a 15 point advantage at one time in the first half but had it chopped to 1-38.

Both teams showed halves of the recording a half from the 59% shooting. Coyotes grabbed making more shots Crusaders did.

NNC USED a zone in the first half. The Coyotes led the shooting of the game. No one couldn't be stopped. NNC netted 16 points in the first half.

The Crusaders came on in the second half. They were hot. They jumped off to a quick lead. They had only to have the Red men come back and tie it. 17 all. Eight minutes had passed.

The Crusaders, jubilant after snapping a losing streak, were disappointed when they reached the game. During the second half somebody had into the dressing room many money.

NC Jayvees Win over ISC Frosh

NAMPA — Northwest Nazarene college jayvees kept a slim lead the entire second half to beat the Idaho State college jayvees here Saturday night 66-59. The game was a preliminary test to the Northwest Nazarene-St. Martin's game at Central gym.

Idaho State Frosh: Zaklan 14, West 11, ...

40 set by Dave Gardner in 1958, kept NNC in the ball game the second half. After pulling the Crusaders to within 8 points, C of I called a time out and Locke cooled off somewhat from his fast pace of before.

With 6 minutes remaining in the game the Coyotes from Caldwell latched on to the guest lead of the evening point bulge. This led back and forth exchanged back.

Locke's pace for almost the entire game.

Burwick Top Scorer, 19; Austin is Ball Handler

By GIL CRAKER
The Northwest Nazarene College Crusaders, led by the shooting of Ray Burwick points, and the nifty ball handling of Austin, rolled past Northern Montana, in NNC's 11-27 left.

Homecoming game of the Crusaders, 67-59. The Crusaders, led by the shooting of Ray Burwick points, and the nifty ball handling of Austin, rolled past Northern Montana, in NNC's 11-27 left.

NAMPA — Northwest Nazarene college turned to a ball game in the final minutes. The Crusaders pulled away from St. Martin's college Saturday night. Final score was 86-76.

Northwest Nazarene Five Tips St. Martin's, 86-76

The game was a dog-fight until the final seven minutes, with the teams matching each other point for point. NNC finally went ahead to stay 53-52 with six minutes gone in the second half. With seven minutes left the Crusaders led 63-60. Then Ray Burwick, who went to the bench on fouls, returned and scored 11 points in the last five minutes. The N.N.C. Varsity basketball squad, which played outstanding ball at times, ended the season with a seven-win, eighteen-loss record. During the first ten games of the season, the Crusaders played about even Steven, winning four and losing six.

After hitting a long losing streak, the Crusaders began working together and won three games in a row, one of which was against Westminster's top northwest team. The Crusaders averaged 68.6 points per game compared to their opponents 74.4.

The team's leading scorer, Ray Burwick, will be the only member lost via the graduation route. With many returning lettermen of high caliber, the Crusaders are pointing toward an excellent season next year.

Junior Varsity

Playing a superb brand of ball, the N.N.C. Junior Varsity squad won the majority of their ball games by good margins.

Coach Elmore Vail with unsubdued joy watched his team run past one team after another. The College of Idaho Junior Varsity felt the Crusader J.V.'s unleashed fury as they went down to defeat twice. The Crusader J.V.'s also downed the Magic Valley Christian College J.V.'s twice but lost by 4 points to Lewis and Clark Normal Varsity.

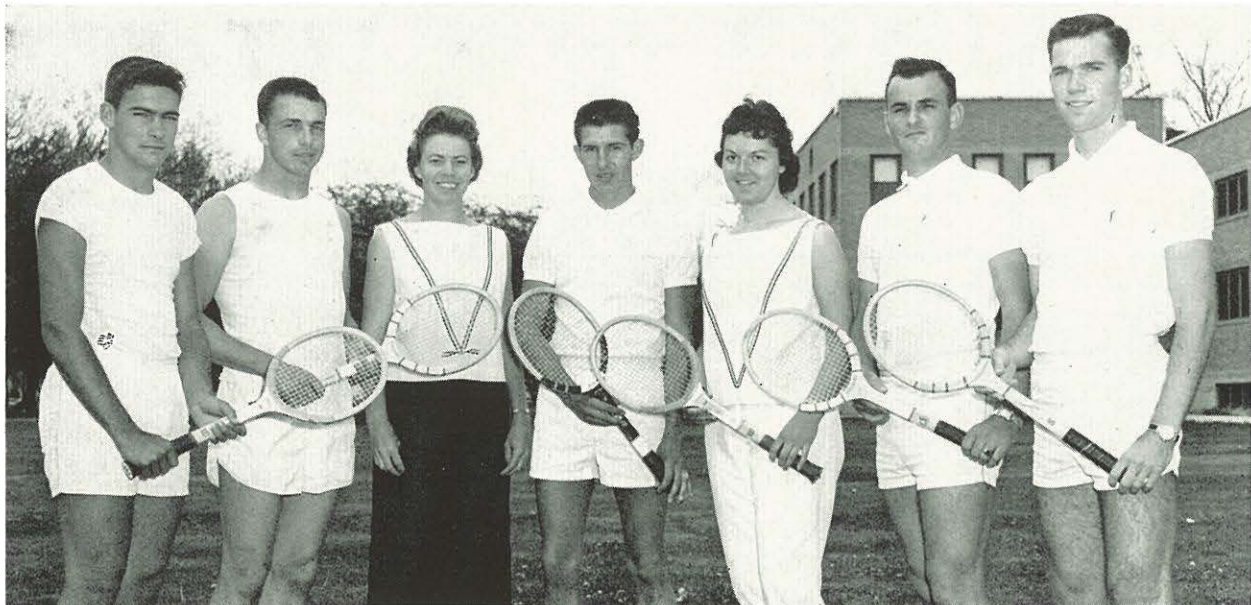

The quality of the individual players on the squad was demonstrated by the fact that the majority of the J.V.'s saw some action in Varsity contests. It is certain that several members of this year's J.V. squad will contribute in a major way towards a successful Varsity team next year.

The 1959-60 tennis team completed one of the most successful seasons of past years. During the Easter vacation tour they had 26 wins and 4 losses.

This year's team was minus seven members who left via graduation. Of these, Dorothy Mittleider is perhaps the team's greatest loss. She was rated the number two woman tennis player of Idaho last year. She lettered 4 years on the women's team and three years on the men's team, compiling a four-year singles record of 39 wins and 8 losses. George Harper, another graduate, lettered three years and captained the men's team all three years. His three-year singles record was 25 wins and 8 losses.

COACH ORRIN HILLS

The 1959-60 N.N.C. track team ran, jumped, and threw their way to a successful season. Coach Orrin Hills was pleasantly surprised at the showing of his team. The team placed second at the N.N.C. Invitational and at the B.J.C. Invitational. They also took a first in a dual meet with Eastern Oregon and a third and fourth in other meets. To top the season the team placed second at the District 5 N.A.I.A. Meet at Dillon, Montana.

Marty Sharp, Al Freeman, and John Reed won a trip to Sioux City, Iowa, for the National track meet.

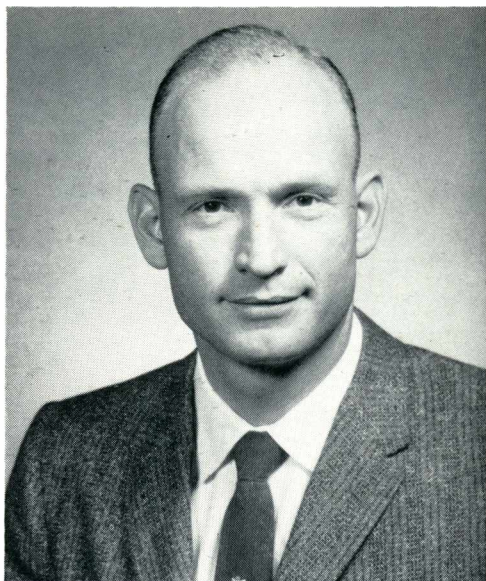

John Reed set a new district meet record in the 440-yd. dash with a time of 51.6 seconds. Al Freeman set a district record in the high hurdles with the time of 15.5 seconds. Another district record was set by Marty Sharp high jumping 6 feet 2½ inches. School records were broken by Marty Sharp in the high jump and Tom Ellis in the javelin throw. Al Freeman tied the old high hurdle record.

It's up and over as Al Freeman works the high hurdles.

Working out for spring track on N.N.C.'s track field are Jim Lenn and Leroy James.

COACH ELMORE VAIL

Baseball

Closing out his third year of coaching baseball at N.N.C. Coach Elmore Vail directed a young team to a fair 1960 season's record of 8 wins and 10 losses. Facing a year of rebuilding, Coach Vail downed many opponents with six of the starting nine underclassmen. Although shaky at first, the team began to shape up and ended the season with four straight wins.

Senior Ernie Thompson, left fielder, was a big stick for the Crusaders, ending the season with a .328 batting average. Bill Manley, a freshman, carried the load in the pitching department and finished the season with a 6 win 4 loss record. Junior, Jerry Isaacson (2 wins 4 losses) pitched a perfect no-hit, no-run ball game against Magic Valley Christian College.

The skillful direction of Warnie Tippitt, was a key factor in the success of the Messiah.

Highlighting the Christmas season was the annual presentation of the Messiah, under the leadership of Professor Warnie Tippitt, the 170-voice choir presented an inspiring musical panorama of Christ's life.

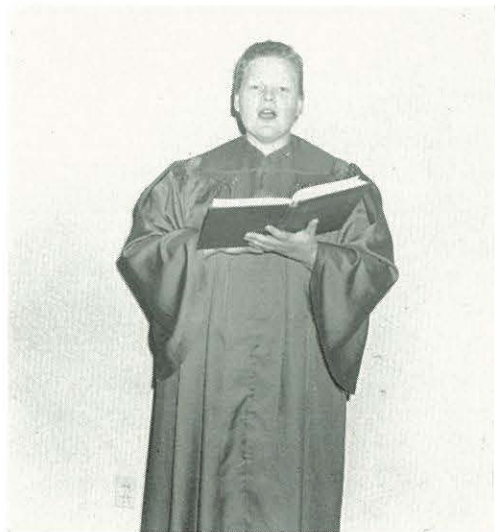

The featured soloists in this year's presentation were Helen Greenlee, soprano; Sharon Hubler, alto; Estyn M. Goss, tenor; Professor Marvin Bloomquist, bass.

The orchestra, pianist, Mrs. Ruby Sanner, and organist, Mrs. Alline Swann, backed the choir instrumentally.

College Church

The students of N.N.C. find their spiritual food in attending the many services at College Church. Leading the church is Rev. Eugene Stowe who understands the problems of the students as well as his parishioners. Many have sought and found guidance in his study. Working with the pastor, Warnie Tippitt uses music as a means to end of spiritual inspiration. Rich Benner filled the new position of student coordinator to join church and college interests.

Seated: Rev. Sanner, Co-Sponsor; J. Wright, President; Dr. Jorden, Co-Sponsor. Standing: S. Stover, Program; R. Gammill, Treasurer, L. Clark, Secretary; F. Thomas, Vice-President.

The Christian Ministerial Association's purpose is to provide Christian fellowship, practical information, and inspiration for future ministers. President John Wright and sponsors Dr. Jorden and Professor Sanner have led the group in a fruitful year.

Regular monthly meetings featured special speakers from the faculty or town. Here the men had informal discussions concerning the various aspects of the ministry. In the spring two men were sent to the theological conference in California. The year was concluded with an annual breakfast at commencement time.

Christian Workers Band

The Christian Workers Band has been led by faculty sponsor, Rev. Sanner and President Jerry Groenig. The purpose of this group is two-fold: first, to provide an outlet for the students by giving time for Sunday afternoon visits to rest homes, jails and hospitals; second, to bridge the gap between the college and the Northwest Educational Zone by sending singing groups, instrumentalists and student preachers to hold services. The main activity of the year was the Youth Week revivals held between semesters in which students participated in more than thirty-five meetings.

The Foreign Missions Band has planned its programs around its purpose: to guide, direct, and prepare the students for lives as missionaries. The group was sponsored by Rev. Earl Lee and Mrs. Frances Mangum.

Among those who spoke to the group were Dr. Jorden, Rev. and Mrs. Earl Lee, and Dr. Bob Mangum. One of their special activities was a Christmas Banquet with Mrs. Hartley as guest speaker. These meetings gave practical information as missionary service with emphasis on the importance of prayer.

General Missionary Society

Seated: G. Heppell, Treasurer; J. Horne, Secretary; Dr. E. Jorden, Advisor; G. Miller, President; G. Anderson, Program Co-Chairman; D. Rankin, Reading Chairman. Standing: R. Brooks, Bulletin Board Chairman; R. Burwick, Program Co-Chairman; L. Shelton, Vice-President and Prayer and Fasting Chairman.

The General Missionary Society sponsored by Rev. Earl Lee and Dr. Jorden and led by President Gordon Miller chose as their theme for the year "So Send I You" (JOHN 20:21).

This year's project has been the purchase of books for the Bible School in Brazil. To help raise the necessary funds needed, a "loose change campaign" was organized to encourage each one to give loose change in the missionary offerings. Each Thursday in chapel they presented a program of missionary emphasis.

Glenda Anderson and Marjorie Edgar, along with Richard Brooks (not pictured), very efficiently displayed the General Missionary Society project for this year.

And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

Letter of Appreciation

Mere words of heart-felt gratitude and appreciation seem inadequate in expressing my sincere "thanks" to those who have shared the numerous responsibilities of putting this annual together. Many laborious hours of planning, writing, typing, picture taking and balancing of books have been spent towards its completion.

Special recognition is in order for those especially responsible for each of these phases: To the editorial staff of Lois Young and Ginger McKenna who spent many long and late hours editing and writing in preparation for deadlines; to each member of the literary and make-up staffs who became very familiar with the pencil and typewriter before this school year was history; to Miss Marian Washburn and Mr. L. W. Johnson for their timely advice and guidance.

The financial phase of our organization was very efficiently controlled by Neil McKay. He was ably assisted by Jerre Kauffman. To each church and local business concern who supported us with an ad, we say "thank-you."

Our sincere thanks to Dave Jones, our photographer, for his hours faithfully spent manning the camera trigger. Also, a word of appreciation to Laurie Seaman for his assistance with the photography.

A special note of "thanks" to Mr. Chapin for his dependability, and assistance in any photography problems we were faced with. Also, our "thanks" are extended to Jerry Scott for his excellent work in the developing and printing of pictures; to Terry Westmark for his outstanding art work on the division pages; to Mr. Gipson, Mr. Pead, and others of The Caxton Printers who were so patient and helpful with any problems which arose; and to Western Engraving Company for their very evident work throughout the annual.

Yes, many people made the 1961 Oasis a reality. Thanks to each of you.

JERRY DIRKSE, Editor
