Highly Explosive !!

By HELEN G. WILSON

The above words were written by Professor Phelps of Yale University. Strangely enough, he was not referring to the atom bomb or some other detonator but to an item which is more or less common to us all. He was describing something which all of us possess, sometimes in quantity. He was speaking of the Bible. Here is his quotation in full: "It ought to have written on as far as we're concerned, we're the cover, 'Highly explosive, Handle with care.' It is the book also battling ourselves, trying to which by the dynamite of its message has lifted empires off their hinges and turned the course of human events.

None of us would take issue with Professor Phelps when it accomplish both these goals in the comes to the potency of the Bible. Most of us would agree with him that the Bible is the greatest book in all the world. We acknowledge its power over men and nations. We know that it is the world's best-seller among books.

But after all has been said and the fanfare of applause has died away one question remains: What are we letting the Bitble accomplish in our own lives?

In the final analysis, this is the most important consideration of all. An explosive is useful only if handled with care. Careless handling of dynamite has cost many lives and careless toying with the Word of God means spiritual death to those con-

What are YOU doing with the Word of God? Are you disregarding its pages and thus negating the promises? Do you read it in a slip-shod, hurried manner with little or no concentration? Do you read at irregular intervals and then only at random?

These questions and this editorial have been prompted by some talks which the writer has been having with fine young people on this campus. Some of these young men and women are concerned over the fact that they feel that they are "Bible Illiterates." One boy said, "I can't quote Scripture half as well Miss 'Feb. 29' Arrives

The answer to this problem is simple. In fact, it is so simple that it is difficult; READ YOUR BIBLE. Read it faithfully, systematically, and, above all, prayerfully. The Holy Spirit will help you to understand and appreciate the wonderful truths contain for our business manager's little

You will discover new horizons and scale fascinating 29, and her birthday anniversary heights and you will repeat with Professor Phelps: "Highly explosive, handle with care.

Vets Views In The News

as seen by Willis Walker

How far are you looking ahead, fellows? If the Lord tarries and your health doesn't diminish too speedily nor an accident befall you, and a hundred other ifs, you have a good chance of being alive at the turn of the 21st century. The Veterans' Administration in figuring what its administrative and operating requirements for veterans will be in the future, has computed that Rev. Pope presented the film to 3,40,000 World War II veterans will be alive in the year 2000.

Representative Shafer (R.-Mich.) has proposed that the gov ernment save money by issuing free life insurance for the armed services and all war veterans. He thinks it would be cheaper to give them the insurance than to pay out what it costs to collect the premiums. He said that the joint army-navy personnel board already has appropriated the principle of free insurance for men and women on active military duty. It makes one wonder how the cost of collecting insurance premiums could be over and above the amount of the premiums, but since I'm not a professional business man and since I have trouble enough balancing my own budget, I hesitate to comment on that point. Not being a politician either makes me a bit shy in making any political remarks, but this being election year, I doubt not that many politicians will glide into office because of what they have done or propose to do for the veterans.

How about mobilizing our forces and getting ready for "D' day, starting our revival off with suhc a bombardment of pray ers that Satan himself will have to flee and who have fought in battles against men ought also to be victorious warriors against sin.

At the end of the first four Sundays the contest is just exactly where it started, NNC is ahead by raise our Sunday School to an average attendance of 800. If we can ten Sundays, we will then have something to be really proud of.

Do you still have the Sunday School on your prayer list, right up at the top? Remember, "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much."

The Rev. McGraw brought to us a truth that cannot easily be forgotten, and that, to be stated here, "Never man spake like this Man spake;" for in every phase of our being we can be "alive through Christ from sin!"

The Rev. Fitz, missionary to China, enlarged the fact in his message to us that we receive "so much for so little" concerning Christ's love towards us. And it is true that the "Only safe place to be is right in the center of the 'Path of Duty'."

The Rev. Mason Lee says that 'An education and the Holy Ghost in our lives is all we need if we but "Launch out into the deep and let the shorelines go!"

"Doubt says, 'I don't quite see it; if it's true, I want it.' Sin says, 'I don't see it; if it's true, I don't want it'."

"You say Jesus is too good to send anyone to hell? I agree. Hell s the self-chosen way that you post office, then was drafted into take if you choose not to go with God. . . . But Jesus has never issued a modern philosophy with a revised interpretation of sin!"

"Temptation will COME: temptations can be overcome; temptations OVERCOME lead to a glorious OUTCOME."

"Victory is at the end. Every time you meet a temptation and overcome it by the power of the indwelling Christ, you are that much stronger to meet the next temptation."

Athlete's Foot

by Peter Burkhart

While it is true intramural basketball is still in the wind, last half to enable us to lead at half Friday officially closed the basketball season for 1947-48 for the varsity at NNC.

> Orchids are in order to the many that made this season complete and enjoyable. First of all to Coach LaMont Lee, who, win or lose, piloted the team a climactic landing Thursday night against Seattle | trimming the ADP's who copped Pacific college. To one of the follows on the squad who didn't get in second place during the first half the lime light, but put in a good hard lick of time and energy, Doc season. It was the first win of the Ray Hastings, manager. To his co-worker and the man who rendered a very important service to the team, Delmar Beukelman, financier, ped six straight. ticket agent, and press reporter. To Prof. Knighton and all the fellows who assisted at the stop-watch and score-book. To the yell leaders, who verbally prodded the spectators to cheer the team, win or lose. To the Girls' Aathletic club, who very ably, when almost impossible, seated and kept order in an overflowing crowd. To the team members themselves, who spent hours of tedious training and preparation for the games. Orchids to all of these and to each unmentioned helper who made this season a good one, closing with an expectation for the next.

Now that the season is over Bob Kiel can go back to shooting lay-ins into any handy basket. Ray Hastings declares he is going to be an isolationist. The married team members will go back to the perfect girl, and the single members may go looking after her, but Coach Lee will have to go back to selling silverware to support her.

Crusaders Finish In Blaze of Glory

The Crusaders gained sweet revenge for their double loss to Seattle Pacific at Seattle earlier this season by sweeping the two-game series, winning last Thursday night in a very decisive manner, 71-40.

With big Carlyle Dean controlling both backboards and Ralph Unger and John Cramer passing superbly, the Crusaders rolled to a 33-16 half-time score. During the first half Elmore Vail became white hot and poured in shots from all angles.

In the second half the Crusaders continued their ball-hawking, backboard play, and deadly shooting, while the Falcons were having all kinds of difficulties. Leading the scoring parade was Elmore Vail with eight baskets for 16 points and John Cramer with 16, followed by Carlyle Dean with 12. Dohner swished in 11 for the visitors.

'Mariar-Boards'

With two days to prepare a Friday evening entertainment for February 20, the A. S. B. president put his head together and decided to stage a mock senior recital. Immediately, he engaged the services of Sylvia Edinger, art major. Thinking that perhaps the administration frowned on calling it a "senior recital," they changed the name. Sylvia and Abe went to work rounding up singers, whistlers, marimbists, pianists, and ushers to embellish the program. Feverishly, they school band, led by Dick Friesen, provided the climax with four excellent numbers. The entire performance was passable enough to fool a great number of the audience into thinking it was a genuine recital. Sylvia's oil painting was given as a prize to the holder of the lucky program sheet. Abe's oil cartoon was the booby prize.
